Board Seeks Railroad Wage Rate Overhaul

Wants Commission
To Modernize Pay
Structure Set Up

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—A presidential board today recommended an overhaul of the wage rate structure on the nation's railroads.

It said there are inequities and out-of-date features, and a commission should be set up to modernize the pay structure of the men who run the trains.

The recommendation dealt specifically with the operating class of employees—engineers, conductors, trainmen, etc.—not with such nonoperating jobs as clerks and repairmen.

Named By President

The board was named by President Eisenhower to head off a threatened strike over demands of conductors and brakemen for a graduated pay scale based on the size of locomotives hauling their trains.

The board rejected this demand. But it found there is an inequality in the present average daily rates of pay of conductors in through-freight service. It recommended that the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen and the railroads conduct negotiations to correct the inequality, either by increasing the basic daily rate or by some other suitable method.

The board's report, filed with the President today, made no finding of inequality in the pay rates of brakemen and those of conductors in passenger and short-haul service.

But the report said there is an urgent need for a thoroughgoing review and modernization of the rate structure of the industry, specifically in the operating classifications. It said there has been no comprehensive review since World War I and that "one is long overdue."

Conductors Make Demands

The board was created in the face of insistent demands by the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen that the size of locomotives be calculated in fixing their pay. In the case of engineers and firemen, this has been done for many years. And with the increased size of locomotives due to the advent of Diesels this has put money in the pockets of engineers and firemen.

The conductors began making demands for a graduate wage scale as far back as 1949. Last year they voted to strike unless their demands were met.

Brussels Police Patrol Streets

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 25 (AP)—Police set up roadblocks and patrolled Brussels' streets today. They took steps to cope with any violence stemming from threatened Roman Catholic demonstrations tomorrow against the government's proposed cuts in church school subsidies.

Nine thousand state police were moved into the capital to enforce a government ban on all gatherings of more than five people tomorrow. Group movements by buses, trucks or special trains into Brussels have been prohibited.

Premier Achille Van Acker called on all persons to avoid trouble. In a communique, he said:

"The government condemns the attitude of those who do not hesitate to disturb public order for partisan interests. Order will be maintained."

Despite the warning, many Catholics were believed determined to go through with the demonstrations against what they charge is a government move to freeze out the church schools in favor of the state system.

Of Belgium's 1,646,000 school children, 934,000 attend church schools. According to some estimates, the planned slash in subsidies to Catholic schools amounts to 250 million francs—five million dollars.

Severe Spring Storm, Sub-Zero Weather In West

DENVER, March 25 (AP)—Farmers and ranchers in Colorado, Wyoming and Montana moved to protect their livestock from sub-zero temperatures tonight on the heels of a severe spring storm which had moved into the plains region from the Rocky Mountain area.

The storm late today had swept eastward into Kansas, eastern Nebraska and parts of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Montana—still digging out from up to eight inches of snow left by the worst spring blizzard in years—was cranking for a new storm predicted to dump more snow in the mountainous Continental Divide area and in the southwest portion of the state.

Low temperatures of 5 to 10 degrees below zero were predicted for tonight in much of the storm belt where the calving and lambing seasons were under way.

Lowest temperatures in the nation today was 34 below at Unionville, near Helena, Mont., which itself had 30 below—a new record for the month.

One traffic death in Colorado was blamed on heavy snow which measured 8 inches in Denver and a foot at Rabbit Ears Pass in the western part of the state.

Wyoming's snowfall ranged from one to four inches.

The front left up to seven inches of snow over most of Kansas and up to four inches in Missouri. Temperatures of zero to 15 above were forecast for the two states tonight.

Eastern Nebraska got most of the snow in that state with five inches at Omaha and Norfolk. The west portion, which needs the moisture most, got only light falls.

The snow-laden cold front threatened another freeze over the upper two-thirds of Texas, where the peach and early vegetable crops were destroyed in some places earlier this week. Snow fell from Amarillo to Dalhart and eastward across central and northern Oklahoma.

Mid-Missouri, from Kansas City to St. Louis, apparently took the brunt of the storm with cross-state highways reported slick and treacherous.

Spain, Iran Ink Pact

MADRID, Spain, March 25 (AP)—A friendship treaty between Spain and Iran was tonight announced by the Spanish Cabinet after its regular weekly meeting under Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of state. No details were given.

At midnight two men raced up in the dark, apparently from behind a chicken house a short distance from the hall, and loosed hand grenades. Then they broke in, firing automatic weapons.

A feminine agricultural instructor, Varda Friedmann, 22, fell dead. Two girls, including the village teacher, were wounded seriously. Twenty-one other persons were less critically hurt. A nurse gave them first aid.

Israeli troops sped to the scene. The detachment failed to arrive in time to engage the raiders, but trackers ascertained there were four men in all in the band—two having been left in covering positions. The troops trailed them back to the Gaza Strip border.

Later an Israeli patrol reported it had challenged an Arab infiltrator in the nearby village of Nirim and shot him dead when he tried to escape.

Ike Examines Old Bible

President Eisenhower examines a treasured Christian document, the Yonan Codex, said to be the oldest known New Testament in the language spoken by Christ and his disciples, Aramaic. Covered by a $1,500,000 insurance policy on its trip through Washington, it was brought by the White House yesterday on its way to the Library of Congress. With the president are Norman Yonan, member of the family which preserved the book, and Dr. Joan Shapley, Catholic U. Aramaic scholar. The Codex is said to be more than 1,600 years old. Pinay Strongly Urges French To Rearm Germany

PARIS, March 25 (AP)—"Don't be behind the diplomatic times," Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay told the French Senate today in a speech urging approval of the Paris treaties to free and reararm West Germany.

The final vote is expected tomorrow. Approval would make France the 10th of the 15 signatory nations to complete legislative action on the treaties. The other five: Belgium, Denmark, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and the United States.

Pinay warned the senators that failure to approve the treaties "would be falling into the Russian trap, because the Soviets have made German rearmament their instrument for dislocating the Western solidarity."

To say "yes" to German rearmament would only be "saying yes to ourselves," Pinay declared.

Pinay said it was too often forgotten that France had taken the lead in pulling the West together and that many "have sought to have it believed that the Paris agreements are imposed on us by our allies."

Pinay urged the senators to put aside any temptations for an amendment which would delay ratification and force a reopening of debate in the National Assembly. "Any dilatory procedure, any suspensive clause," he said, "any delay in ratification, would be the same as rejection."

"What our Allies—and not only our British and American Allies—but all the countries linked to us in the Western organization await from us is a clear decision, a yes or no. And this yes can be expressed completely only by the deposit of the instruments of ratification."

Justice Dept. Given Irving Peress Case As Probe Is Ended

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Senate investigators voted today to close their books now on the Irving Peress case and let the Justice Department determine whether anybody should be prosecuted for perjury.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee also recommended that the Justice Department "further pursue" the question whether Peress violated the law.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said the subcommittee did leave the door open for possible reopening of the Peress hearings. And Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) thrust a foot in the crack.

McCarthy let it be known he wants more hearings—to follow through on a question he has raised whether conflicting statements of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker and C. George Anastasios involved perjury.

This was the background: Peress is a New York dentist and former Army major. He once signed an Army form on which he denied membership in any subversive organization. Later, he refused to tell congressional investigators whether he had ever been a Communist and Army Intelligence listed him as a security risk.

Even after Peress had been tabbed as a risk and McCarthy had asked that he be court-martialed, the Army promoted Peress and gave him an honorable discharge. Primarily, the investigations subcommittee has been trying to find out how this could happen and who was responsible.

Now it is asking the Justice Department to decide whether Peress can be prosecuted under a false statements law for signing the Army form.

McClellan said the department still is working on the case.

U. S. Atty. John W. McElvaine ordered the seizure after filing an information in U. S. District Court at Pittsburgh and obtaining permission from Chief Judge Wallace S. Gourley.

The seizure was carried out by a U. S. marshal and a representative of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

McElvaine said Hoxsey uses the pills to treat patients for cancer. Hoxsey also operates a clinic in Dallas, Tex.

McElvaine said the pills were shipped to the Portage clinic from Detroit on March 11. He did not identify the firm but said they are "misbranded because they contained false and misleading representation."

McElvaine said the pills are marketed as effective and adequate treatment for internal cancer.

Hoxsey has repeatedly claimed he can cure cancer by treating it with the pills made from herbs. The American Medical Assn. has termed the treatment "worthless."

Britain Develops New Coal-Burning Jet

BIRMINGHAM, England, March 25 (AP)—Britain has developed a new coal-burning jet engine that produces both electric power and heat.

Fuel Minister Geoffrey Lloyd said today it uses pulverized coal, drives a turbine to generate electricity and uses its exhaust to work a central heating plant. It is based on the kerosene-burning aircraft jet.

Senate Votes Raise Of 10 Per Cent For Federal Employees

Pay Hike Passed By 72-21 Roll Call
Over Objections Of The President

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Senate overrode President Eisenhower's wishes today and voted to give 1,500,000 government workers a 10 per cent raise in pay.

It thereby risked a veto; the President has said he would view a raise of such a size with great concern.

A rollcall vote of 72-21 approved the increase for 500,000 postal workers.

Then the Senate rushed through a similar raise for about 1,000,000 federal employees in the ranks of the classified Civil Service. Passage was on a voice vote.

The legislation now goes to the House, where administration leaders will reform their ranks to give it possibly tougher opposition.

Opponents of the 10 per cent boost called it impractical—"an empty gesture." They said the President never would sign bills raising public pay that much when the budget was still unbalanced.

It is estimated the raise for postal workers would cost 220 million dollars annually and that for the classified employees about 500 million, a total of 720 million dollars.

Eisenhower has sought to hold the raise down to about 6 per cent for the Civil Service and 7.6 per cent for the Post Office Department.

But Democrats declared they were "tired" of attempted dictation from the executive branch. They asserted the Senate should do what it believed to be right.

Congress voted itself a 50 per cent raise recently, and members are now drawing $22,500 a year.

A two-thirds vote of those present and voting in both houses is required to override a presidential veto.

While the 72-21 Senate vote gave the bill more than a two-thirds margin, many Republicans voted for it reluctantly and some would probably switch sides on a veto test. Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo.), for one, said that although he voted for the bill he would not vote to override a veto.

The bill would give each postal worker at least a 10 per cent raise but would mean more for those receiving less than $4,000 a year, since it has a $400 floor. The Senate had voted earlier to make the increases effective when the Senate president signs the bill. The original plan was to make it retroactive to Jan. 1.

Left out of the bill was the controversial job reclassification plan which the administration has insisted is absolutely essential.

Man Receives 187
Pints Of Blood But
Dies Of Hemorrhage

EAST MEADOW, N. Y., March 25 (AP)—A patient died from loss of blood in Meadowbrook Hospital today although he had been given transfusions totaling 187 pints—close to a record amount.

He was Angelo Zambelis, 21, a Greek immigrant who came to this country a year ago. He had been bleeding internally from ruptured ulcers since Feb. 20.

Mrs. Genevieve Kief, in charge of the hospital's blood supply, said the volume of blood given him was just one pint below a record 188 pints, the largest total transfusion of whole blood ever given one patient.

Zambelis, suffering from hemophilia which kept his blood from clotting to stop the hemorrhage, received transfusions almost continuously during the last three days of his life.

Born at Clarksburg, W. Va., Davis entered national politics in 1910 with his election to the first of two terms in the U. S. House of Representatives. President Woodrow Wilson appointed him solicitor general in 1913, a position he held for five years. Then Wilson named him ambassador to Great Britain, where he remained for three years before returning to this country to resume his law practice.

Nominated for President by the Democrats in 1924 on the 103rd ballot at the longest convention ever held, Davis campaigned vigorously but unsuccessfully against President Calvin Coolidge.

One of his most celebrated cases before the U. S. Supreme Court came in 1952 when President Harry S. Truman ordered the steel mills seized in an effort to head off a strike. Davis contended, successfully, that the order was unconstitutional.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 25 (AP)—The body of John W. Davis, a national political and legal figure for more than four decades, was sent tonight to New York after lying in state at a funeral home here today.

His third pneumonia attack of the winter proved fatal yesterday to the 81-year-old constitutional lawyer, who was the Democratic nominee for President in 1924.

The funeral will be at 11 a. m. Monday in the Brick Presbyterian Church in New York. Burial will be in Locust Valley Cemetery on Long Island.

A winter visitor here for many years, he was stricken at his winter residence at nearby Yeamans Hall and entered a hospital March 14. With him when he died were his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Healy of New York.

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham will speak over the British Broadcasting Corp. nationwide home service every day next week.

Demos Yield On Measure In Joint Meeting

Senate Quickly OKs
Bill To Continue The Present Tax Program

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—A Democratic plan to cut income taxes $20 a person was killed today in a major victory for the Eisenhower administration.

House Democrats backing the proposal tossed in the towel in a Senate-House Conference Committee. The upshot was that the committee approved a Senate bill merely continuing present corporate income and excise tax rates for one more year.

The Senate then swiftly passed this bill. It shouted its approval, without even a record vote, after Senator Byrd (D-Va.), a foe of tax cuts at this time, presented the committee report with a brief explanation.

House Schedules Action

House leaders scheduled final action on the bill—minus the tax cut—next Tuesday. But that was almost a formality now. The steam was taken out of the fight when House Democrats yielded in the committee.

That sounded the death knell for the Democratic plan, pushed through the House by a 210-205 vote, to give each taxpayer and each dependent a $20 annual tax cut starting next Jan. 1.

The House tied this cut to an Eisenhower administration bill extending corporate and excise taxes. The Senate defeated the tax cut, 61-32, and passed the straight extension bill as urged by Eisenhower. The Conference Committee was appointed to settle the conflict.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Conference Committee and of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, predicted the House would approve the report with little to do.

Unless extended, corporate income and excise tax rates would drop on April 1—just one week away—by about three billion dollars annually. The excises apply to automobiles, cigarettes, liquor, and other items.

Cooper said it was the April 1 deadline which forced House Democrats to surrender their pet tax plan.

Senators Refuse Cut

He said the House Democrats on the Conference Committee insisted repeatedly that taxes on individuals should be cut next year, and even offered a compromise reduction of only $10 per person. But senators on the conference committee, including two senior Democrats, Sens. Byrd and George of Georgia, firmly refused to accept any tax cut or any compromise.

Eisenhower had strongly opposed the Democratic tax cutting plan throughout a long, often bitter scrap. He said it was fiscally irresponsible in view of an estimated $2,300,000,000 federal deficit next year, and might bring more inflation.

Library Gets Oldest Bible

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Yonan Codex, oldest known New Testament in the language spoken by Christ and his disciples, was transferred from a Washington bank vault to the Library of Congress today. It will go on public display April 5.

On the way to the library, the ancient manuscript was taken to the White House for a brief showing to President Eisenhower. It was accompanied by a heavy police guard and traveled under a 1½ million-dollar insurance policy.

The manuscript, believed to be more than 1,600 years old, has been kept for centuries by the Malek Yonan family, which came from Assyria after World War I. It has been acquired, for an unspecified price, by the Aramaic Bible Foundation, formed especially for the purpose.

The vellum manuscript consists of 227 leaves about 7½ inches. Its beautifully formed handwriting, apparently the work of a single scribe, is in black ink which has turned brownish in part. The names of the various books are in red ink.

Brussels Police Patrol Streets

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 25 (AP)—Police set up roadblocks and patrolled Brussels' streets today. They took steps to cope with any violence stemming from threatened Roman Catholic demonstrations tomorrow against the government's proposed cuts in church school subsidies.

Of Belgium's 1,646,000 school children, 934,000 attend church schools. According to some estimates, the planned slash in subsidies to Catholic schools amounts to 250 million francs—five million dollars.

Israeli Wedding Shot Up, Girl Is Slain, 23 Wounded

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, March 25 (AP)—Raiders shot up an Israeli wedding party in the village of Patish last night, killing a girl and wounding 23 other guests. Israel blamed Egypt, calling the attack "another link in a continued chain of aggression."

Patish is about 12 miles inside Israeli territory from the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip, where 38 Egyptians and 8 Israelis were killed in clashes Feb. 28. The U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission held Israel's army responsible for that incident.

Accounts of an Israeli military spokesman and eyewitnesses gave this picture of the raid on Patish: The newlyweds—Samuel Kadimi and his bride Simchah—had departed early, leaving about 30 persons dancing in the community hall by the light of a kerosene lamp.

While the 72-21 Senate vote gave the bill more than a two-thirds margin, many Republicans voted for it reluctantly and some would probably switch sides on a veto test. Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo.), for one, said that although he voted for the bill he would not vote to override a veto.

The bill would give each postal worker at least a 10 per cent raise but would mean more for those receiving less than $4,000 a year, since it has a $400 floor. The Senate had voted earlier to make the increases effective when the Senate president signs the bill. The original plan was to make it retroactive to Jan. 1.

Left out of the bill was the controversial job reclassification plan which the administration has insisted is absolutely essential.

Actress' Son Is U.S. Citizen

LOS ANGELES, March 25 (AP)—Four-year-old Tommy Kavanagh Waterfield, the British youngster adopted by actress Jane Russell and her husband Bob Waterfield, former football star, became a United States citizen today.

Tommy was adopted in England late in 1951 when his parents said they couldn't give him the childhood they wanted him to have. Although there was a flurry of protest which reached Parliament, the adoption was not prevented.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kavanagh were given one-year probation by an English court for "unlawfully permitting the care and possession of an infant to be transferred." One member of Parliament criticized what he termed the idea of "British exporting babies to the United States."

Davis' Body Sent To N.Y. For Funeral On Monday

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 25 (AP)—The body of John W. Davis, a national political and legal figure for more than four decades, was sent tonight to New York after lying in state at a funeral home here today.

His third pneumonia attack of the winter proved fatal yesterday to the 81-year-old constitutional lawyer, who was the Democratic nominee for President in 1924.

The funeral will be at 11 a.m. Monday in the Brick Presbyterian Church in New York. Burial will be in Locust Valley Cemetery on Long Island.

A winter visitor here for many years, he was stricken at his winter residence at nearby Yeamans Hall and entered a hospital March 14. With him when he died were his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Healy of New York.

West Accuses Soviet Of Gross Secrecy Breach

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—The Western powers accused the Soviet Union tonight of gross violation of the secrecy rules of the five-power London conference on disarmament. They pledged, however, to push ahead with the negotiations "to cast aside the horrible threat of H-bomb warfare."

The Western powers charged that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko leaked to the Soviet news agency a plan presented by him to the conference and gave out a "downright misrepresentation" of the Western position.

The British Foreign Office in a statement charged Gromyko with a "gross violation" of secrecy rules agreed upon at the start of the conference a month ago. The State Department in Washington said the United States, Britain and France agreed Russia was guilty of a "shocking breach of faith."

Canada is the other member of the conference authorized by the United Nations.

The United States and France also issued statements underlining continued Western efforts to get an agreement.

Gromyko, chief Russian delegate, left London yesterday for Moscow, via Stockholm, after giving an interview on the talks to the Soviet Tass agency. That interview touched off the Western denunciation. His place at the conference was taken by Jacob Malik, Soviet ambassador to London.

A British spokesman said repeated Russian leaks show clearly that Russia "is all out for propaganda and not for talks which might make progress."

Gromyko, arriving in Stockholm on an official visit, told reporters he had nothing to say about the British blast.

Man Receives 187 Pints Of Blood But Dies Of Hemorrhage

EAST MEADOW, N. Y., March 25 (AP)—A patient died from loss of blood in Meadowbrook Hospital today although he had been given transfusions totaling 187 pints—close to a record amount.

He was Angelo Zambelis, 21, a Greek immigrant who came to this country a year ago. He had been bleeding internally from ruptured ulcers since Feb. 20.

Mrs. Genevieve Kief, in charge of the hospital's blood supply, said the volume of blood given him was just one pint below a record 188 pints, the largest total transfusion of whole blood ever given one patient.

Zambelis, suffering from hemophilia which kept his blood from clotting to stop the hemorrhage, received transfusions almost continuously during the last three days of his life.

Born at Clarksburg, W. Va., Davis entered national politics in 1910 with his election to the first of two terms in the U. S. House of Representatives. President Woodrow Wilson appointed him solicitor general in 1913, a position he held for five years. Then Wilson named him ambassador to Great Britain, where he remained for three years before returning to this country to resume his law practice.

Nominated for President by the Democrats in 1924 on the 103rd ballot at the longest convention ever held, Davis campaigned vigorously but unsuccessfully against President Calvin Coolidge.

One of his most celebrated cases before the U. S. Supreme Court came in 1952 when President Harry S. Truman ordered the steel mills seized in an effort to head off a strike. Davis contended, successfully, that the order was unconstitutional.

Demos Yield On Measure In Joint Meeting

Senate Quickly OKs Bill To Continue The Present Tax Program

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—A Democratic plan to cut income taxes $20 a person was killed today in a major victory for the Eisenhower administration.

House Democrats backing the proposal tossed in the towel in a Senate-House Conference Committee. The upshot was that the committee approved a Senate bill merely continuing present corporation income and excise tax rates for one more year.

The Senate then swiftly passed this bill. It shouted its approval, without even a record vote, after Senator Byrd (D-Va.), a foe of tax cuts at this time, presented the committee report with a brief explanation.

House Schedules Action

House leaders scheduled final action on the bill—minus the tax cut—next Tuesday. But that was almost a formality now. The steam was taken out of the fight when House Democrats yielded in the committee.

That sounded the death knell for the Democratic plan, pushed through the House by a 210-205 vote, to give each taxpayer and each dependent a $20 annual tax cut starting next Jan. 1.

The House tied this cut to an Eisenhower administration bill extending corporation and excise taxes. The Senate defeated the tax cut, 61-32, and passed the straight extension bill as urged by Eisenhower. The Conference Committee was appointed to settle the conflict.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Conference Committee and of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, predicted the House would approve the report with little to do.

Unless extended, corporation income and excise tax rates would drop on April 1—just one week away—by about three billion dollars annually. The excises apply to automobiles, cigarettes, liquor, and other items.

Cooper said it was the April 1 deadline which forced House Democrats to surrender their pet tax plan.

Senators Refuse Cut

He said the House Democrats on the Conference Committee insisted repeatedly that taxes on individuals should be cut next year, and even offered a compromise reduction of only $10 per person. But senators on the conference committee, including two senior Democrats, Sens. Byrd and George of Georgia, firmly refused to accept any tax cut or any compromise.

Eisenhower had strongly opposed the Democratic tax cutting plan throughout a long, often bitter scrap. He said it was fiscally irresponsible in view of an estimated $2,300,000,000 federal deficit next year, and might bring more inflation.

Library Gets Oldest Bible

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Yonan Codex, oldest known New Testament in the language spoken by Christ and his disciples, was transferred from a Washington bank vault to the Library of Congress today. It will go on public display April 5.

On the way to the library, the ancient manuscript was taken to the White House for a brief showing to President Eisenhower. It was accompanied by a heavy police guard and traveled under a $1½ million-dollar insurance policy.

The manuscript, believed to be more than 1,600 years old, has been kept for centuries by the Malek Yonan family, which came from Assyria after World War I. It has been acquired, for an unspecified price, by the Aramaic Bible Foundation, formed especially for the purpose.

The vellum manuscript consists of 227 leaves about 7x9 inches. Its beautifully formed handwriting, apparently the work of a single scribe, is in black ink which has turned brownish in part. The names of the various books are in red ink.

"Rhapsody" Gets Airing In Russia

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue"—condemned when Joseph Stalin was alive as modernistic claptrap from the capitalist West—has had an official airing in Russia. Moscow radio said tonight the Gershwin music was played at a concert in Moscow's Hall of Columns.

Appeals Court Plans To Review Dickenson Case

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Military Appeals agreed today to review the conviction and sentence of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, found guilty by a court-martial of unlawful communication with the enemy while a prisoner of war in Korea. One of the issues raised in the appeal by counsel for the Cracker's Neck, Va., soldier is a contention that Article 104 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice is unconstitutional. This article deals with unlawful communication with the enemy while a POW.

Dickenson was convicted by the Army court-martial last April. He was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and 10 years' imprisonment. He was one of 23 soldiers captured by the Communists in the Korean fighting who refused repatriation when the armistice was signed. Later Dickenson and one other, Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor of Kermit, Tex., changed their minds and came home.

Batchelor also was brought to trial under the "unlawful communication" charge and was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. His sentence later was reduced to 20 years.

Two More Charged As Spies In Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 25 (AP)—Two more persons in Sweden's new spy case were formally charged today with espionage. The cracking of the spy ring has resulted in the expulsion of four Soviet satellite diplomats from Sweden. Formally charged with complicity were a 40-year-old former Czech woman, now living in Stockholm, and a Göteborg mechanic.

Nine Persons Drown

HUARAZ, Peru, March 25 (AP)—Nine persons riding a truck drowned today when the vehicle went out of control and plunged into the swift waters of the Secchin River. Two others escaped with serious injuries.

State Celebrates 321st Birthday With Holiday

BALTIMORE, March 25 (AP)—Maryland celebrated its 321st birthday today.

Financial institutions and State and municipal offices were closed for the legal holiday.

Patriotic organizations in Baltimore sent representatives to the traditional ceremonies sponsored by the Maryland Colonial Society at the base of the monument to Cecil Calvert, the second Lord Baltimore, who led the first colonists after his father obtained a charter from Charles I.

George L. Radcliffe, former U. S. senator and now president of the Maryland Historical Society, presided at the brief ceremony. The 2nd Army Band played. A wreath was placed on the monument.

At College Park, the University of Maryland chose Maryland Day for dedication of its new $15-million dollar Glenn L. Martin Institute of Technology.

By tradition, it was on March 25, 1634, that Cecil Calvert and his band of colonists arrived in Chesapeake Bay off what now is St. Marys County.

Apparently about 200 were in the party, many of them Roman Catholics fleeing from persecution in England. They came aboard two little ships, the Ark and the Dove.

Today was also the 300th anniversary of another important but less well remembered event in Maryland history—the battle of the Severn.

A force of Puritan residents, who had come from Virginia to settle at Annapolis, engaged a band of Antipastor and Catholics under Cecil Calvert in a short but bloody land and sea encounter.

The Puritans, who sought to wipe out all other religions, won the day by bringing the guns of a ship to bear on Calvert's men.

Tydings Pays Visit To General Assembly

ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (AP)—Former U. S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings paid what he called "a purely social" visit to the Maryland General Assembly today.

Tydings, frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination to his old seat in 1956, told a newsman he had done "no serious thinking" about running again. He was defeated in 1950 by Republican John Marshall Butler after serving four straight terms.

He also paid a courtesy call to the retired Judge James Clark of Maryland's Fifth Judicial Circuit, who died in his sleep last night at the age of 70.

Baltimore Livestock
BALTIMORE, March 25 (AP)—(USDA): cattle 350; bulk of today's receipts comprised stock cattle for weekend or Monday sale, not enough any class sold to establish trading basis.

ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (AP)—Eugene E. Bryant, 21-year-old Korean War veteran, began another move today to escape "the barbaric punishment of hanging" for the murder of his pregnant 17-year-old sweetheart near her Capitol Heights home last April. His attorney filed briefs in the Maryland Court of Appeals charging the Howard County Circuit Court judge who imposed the death sentence was guilty of killing Joan Marie Ruzza before he ever went to trial. The bulky document of 659 pages charged Judge James J. Clark, the trial judge who died only last night in his Ellicott City home, created an atmosphere of resentment and bias against Bryant by "curtness, sarcastic comments, gestures, grimaces, inflection of the voice and frequent insinuations that the trial was keeping the jurors from their homes."

The trial was moved from Prince Georges County to Howard County Circuit Court on a Bryant plea that he could not get a fair trial in his home county.

The jury rejected his insanity plea and gave Judge Clark the option of sentencing the youth to death or life imprisonment.

The Ruzza girl was found shot five times in an alley April 8. She had been dating Bryant over the objection of her parents.

Employees of British railroads who graduate from first aid courses are given holidays with free transportation.

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Military Appeals agreed today to review the conviction and sentence of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, found guilty by a court-martial of unlawful communication with the enemy while a prisoner of war in Korea. One of the issues raised in the appeal by counsel for the Cracker's Neck, Va., soldier is a contention that Article 104 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice is unconstitutional. This article deals with unlawful communication with the enemy while a POW.

Dickenson was convicted by the Army court-martial last April. He was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and 10 years imprisonment. He was one of 23 soldiers captured by the Communists in the Korean fighting who refused repatriation when the armistice was signed. Later Dickenson and one other, Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor of Kermit, Tex., changed their minds and came home.

Batchelor also was brought to trial under the "unlawful communication" charge and was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. His sentence later was reduced to 20 years.

State Celebrates 321st Birthday With Holiday

BALTIMORE, March 25 (AP)—Maryland celebrated its 321st birthday today.

Financial institutions and State and municipal offices were closed for the legal holiday.

Patriotic organizations in Baltimore sent representatives to the traditional ceremonies sponsored by the Maryland Colonial Society at the base of the monument to Cecil Calvert, the second Lord Baltimore, who led the first colonists after his father obtained a charter from Charles I.

George L. Radcliffe, former U. S. senator and now president of the Maryland Historical Society, presided at the brief ceremony. The 2nd Army Band played. A wreath was placed on the monument.

At College Park, the University of Maryland chose Maryland Day for dedication of its new $12-million dollar Glenn L. Martin Institute of Technology.

By tradition, it was on March 25, 1634, that Cecil Calvert and his band of colonists arrived in Chesapeake Bay off what now is St. Marys County.

Apparently about 200 were in the party, many of them Roman Catholics fleeing from persecution in England. They came aboard two little ships, the Ark and the Dove.

Today was also the 300th anniversary of another important but less well remembered event in Maryland history—the battle of the Severn.

A force of Puritan residents, who had come from Virginia to settle at Annapolis, engaged a band of Protestant and Catholics under Cecil Calvert in a short but bloody land and sea encounter.

The Puritans, who sought to wipe out all other religions, won the day by bringing the guns of a ship to bear on Calvert's men.

Tydings Pays Visit To General Assembly

ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (AP)—Former U. S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings paid what he called "a purely social" visit to the Maryland General Assembly today.

Tydings, frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination to his old seat in 1956, told a newsman he had done "no serious thinking" about running again. He was defeated in 1950 by Republican John Marshall Butler after serving four straight terms.

Bryant Appeals Death Sentence

ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (AP)—Eugene E. Bryant, 21-year-old Korean War veteran, began another move today to escape "the barbaric punishment of hanging" for the murder of his pregnant 17-year-old sweetheart near her Capitol Heights home last April.

His attorney filed briefs in the Maryland Court of Appeals charging the Howard County Circuit Court judge who imposed the death sentence was convinced Bryant was guilty of killing Joan Marie Ruzza before he ever went to trial.

The bulky document of 659 pages charged Judge James J. Clark, the trial judge who died only last night in his Ellicott City home, created an atmosphere of resentment and bias against Bryant by "curtious, sarcastic comments, gestures, grimaces, inflection of the voice and frequent insinuations that the trial was keeping the jurors from their homes."

The trial was moved from Prince Georges County to Howard County Circuit Court on a Bryant plea that he could not get a fair trial in his home county.

The jury rejected his insanity plea and gave Judge Clark the option of sentencing the youth to death or life imprisonment.

The Ruzza girl was found shot five times in an alley April 8. She had been dating Bryant over the objection of her parents.

Employees of British railroads who graduate from first aid courses are given holidays with free transportation.

RAINY DAY

Naturally, they're pleased about it—it's their first bank-book. This is something they've managed together. They've saved for the things they want, and also for that "rainy day."

It's wise to save for a rainy day. But it's also wise to remember that drought can be just as devastating as rain . . . particularly spiritual drought.

Faith is the balance you'll find in your spiritual bank-book. It is something that you can renew, something that you can add to, and something that will pay you immeasurable dividends. Where else can such faith be renewed and developed than in the House of the Lord—your Church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mineral County Preparing For Polio Vaccine

School Board Asks Parents' Cooperation

KEYSER—A letter, written by S. T. McGee, assistant superintendent of Mineral County Schools, addressed to parents of children in the first and second grades, has been given to the local newspapers, asking for its publication because it is an impossibility for him to otherwise contact them.

In his letter, he says:

"We have great hopes that all children in the first and second grades of the primary schools in our community will have the opportunity this spring, to receive the Salk polio vaccine. These children have been selected according to a nationwide plan, developed by health and educational authorities and outlined in the leaflet, 'Attention, Parents,' which has been sent to parents of First and Second grade children, through the schools.

"The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will provide, through March of Dimes Funds, sufficient amounts of the vaccine to the West Virginia State Health Department, so that it may be given in our schools under the supervision of Dr. Harry F. Coffman, president, Potomac Valley Medical Society, if the vaccine is licensed by the National Institute of Health. When licensed, vaccine will also be made available by manufacturers to physicians for purchase. Children not in the designated grades of school and others wishing to receive the vaccine, may obtain it through them.

"We shall not know whether the vaccine will be licensed until April 12, but we must prepare now for our community program, so that all three inoculations of the vaccine may be given before schools close and before the polio season.

"If this polio vaccine can be offered, do you want to have it? The vaccine will be given only by written request of parents. Please fill out, sign and return to your child's teacher, the Parental Request form, indicating that you wish your child vaccinated. This form has been distributed to parents through the schools. Prompt return of the form is necessary to determine the amount of vaccine needed in our Community," the letter concludes.

Valley Seniors Will Stage "You Can't Take It With You"

LONAONING—"You Can't Take It With You" will be the Senior Class play at Valley High school on Thursday, April 28, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Thomas P. Staup is faculty director for the comedy in three acts, by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, which will be presented through arrangement with Dramatists Play Service Inc.

The cast was chosen to begin rehearsals. Yvonne Robertson will portray "Penelope Sycamore"; Nancy Crawford will be "Essie"; Lesta Elchorn will be "Reba"; Bob Smith will be "Mr. DePinna".

James McKenzie will act the part of "Paul Sycamore"; Bill Kamauff will be "Ed"; James Wilson will be "Donald"; Harry Hadley, "Martin Vanderhof"; Virginia Hardegan, "Alice Sycamore".

Ellsworth Russell will enact "Henderson"; Harry Meese, "Tony Kirby"; Bob Dickinson, "Boris Kolenkhov"; Marion Thompson, "Mrs. Kirby"; Mary Jean Heiland, "Olga"; Wayne Wiland, James Wilson and James Richardson, "Three Men"; and James Lupis, "Mr. Kirby".

"You Can't Take It With You" is the celebrated comedy, one of the most popular and successful plays of modern times. In contrast to the Sycamore household, who seem mad, are the unhappy Kirbys. The plot shows how Tony, attractive young son of the Kirbys, falls in love with Alice Sycamore and brings his parents to dine at the Sycamore home, on the wrong evening.

The shock sustained by the Kirbys, who are invited to eat cheap food, shows Alice that marriage with Tony will be out of the question. The Sycamores, however, though sympathetic to Alice, find it hard to realize her point of view. Meantime Tony, who knows the Sycamores are right and his own people wrong, will not give her up.

Navy Gets Help In Solving Soil Problems Here

Supervisors Hear Reports At Meeting

Even the Navy can have soil conservation problems, the Board of Supervisors of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District was told yesterday afternoon at the Court House.

Martin M. Gordon, soil conservation aid for the SCS, reported yesterday that his office has assisted F. O. Bartell, a soil conservationist for the Navy Department, in preparing a detailed conservation plan for the area around the Naval Armory here. Included are a seeding and sodding program, several diversion terraces and some shrub planting.

The supervisors also discussed the new brush hog, a giant rotary mower which will cut grass and brush down to two inches, which they recently purchased. It will be available for rental by county farmers.

Some of the tentative plans for Allegany County's participation in Maryland Land Week Thursday, October 13, were presented to the soil board. The meeting and tour in the afternoon will be in the Union Grove area. That night there will be a final session, probably in the Fort Hill High School auditorium, with some nationally-known speaker as the feature attraction.

District Forester William H. Johnson is chairman of the committee to get a speaker and the general planning committee includes Assistant District Forester Harry Hartman, County Agent Joseph M. Steger and Gordon.

During the month now ending one of the largest farm ponds in Allegany County was started on the Potomac Highlands Orchard off State Route 51, not far from Paw Paw. It covers one and one-third acres.

Gordon also reported yesterday that five more county farmers have started soil conservation programs on 548 acres. Among them are Ronald F. Lohr Jr., Williams Road, 125 acres; Charles Alvin Stafford, Williams Road, 125 acres; R. E. Street, Christie Road, 20 acres; Edgar E. Grose, Frostburg, 186 acres, and Samuel Stickle, Williams Road, 92 acres.

Four of the supervisors, Ernest O. Slider, Floyd Buser, Wilbert Paul and Charles Harvey, attended the meeting along with Steger and Gordon.

At least 10 per cent of United States school children are in need of special reading help.

15 Girls Will Join Maryland Discussion

Fifteen girls and two leaders, representing three Senior Girl Scout Troops in Cumberland, will attend a state conference of Senior Girl Scouts in Baltimore, April 1 and 2. Miss Olive Hurlburt, local scout director said yesterday.

This conference, expected to attract delegations from every Maryland county and Baltimore city, is in preparation for the National Senior Girl Scout Round-Up next year in Highland State Recreation Area, near Detroit, Mich.

All Girl Scouts attending the National Round-Up must be well informed about their home state, as to history, folklore, customs and advantages, Miss Hurlburt explained.

At the Baltimore conference, which will be held in Lovely Lane Methodist Church, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "Early History of Maryland."

The general theme of the conference will be "Forty Years of Scouting in Maryland."

The leaders who will accompany the girls to Baltimore are Mrs. Ralph Phillips and Mrs. Robert Shoemaker. The Senior Scouts represent Troops 12, 15 and 21.

Two Senior Scouts from Cumberland, Mary Jane Howell and Barbara Weimer, are attending a Senior Scout Planning Board meeting in Hagerstown today.

Mary Jane Howell was recently elected secretary of the Sectional Planning Board which includes Girl Scout Councils in Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick, Martinsburg, Winchester, and Waynesboro.

County Treasurer Receives His Oath

County Treasurer James W. Bishop received the oath of office for his first full four-year term starting April 1.

The oath was administered by Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. Bishop was first sworn in as county treasurer October 2, 1951, to succeed the late Frederick C. Dreyer.

The central tax office would be established in Cumberland and the county commissioners would have the authority to set up sub-tax offices in other sections of the county for the convenience of the taxpayers.

The purchasing bureau bill authorizes the county commissioners to create and maintain a central purchasing bureau, headed by a purchasing agent they would appoint at a reasonable salary.

This agent would serve at their discretion, the bill states. The bureau would have to conform with laws pertaining to the state purchasing department.

The tax collector measure, if it is passed by both houses, would become effective in June, but the purchasing bill would not go into effect until January 1956.

A third bill introduced by Sen. Kimble today would have the 15-cent fee the county collector receives on each auto license sold going into the county's general fund.

Approve Gas Bill

The Senate passed Thursday Senate Bill 470 sponsored by State Sen. Clifford Friend of Garrett County that would establish a state oil and gas board with authority to regulate drilling, production and marketing of oil and gas.

The State Senate passed Senate Bill 451 introduced by Sen. Kimble which would prohibit the suspension or revocation of alcoholic

Committees Cut

So the cuts by the Finance Committee reduced the overall total to slightly more than 269 million dollars which the State will spend in its own and federal money during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Mental hospitals accounted for one of the largest single items in his budget. Other major appropriations were marked for education, welfare, other health services, and roads.

At this afternoon's session the House disapproved raising the maximum duration of unemployment benefits from 26 to 39 weeks, but tentatively approved increasing the weekly benefit from $30 to $35.

The delegates also enacted a bill providing 41 state paid scholarships to Peabody Institute of Music in Baltimore. This follows an earlier award of state scholarships to Hood College in Frederick.

The House has pending another bill to do the same for Loyola, Morgan State, Goucher and University of Baltimore.

For a while this afternoon the Senate was under the impression it had passed and sent to the House a bill making any evidence obtained by telephone wire-tapping worthless in Maryland courts. But Majority Leader Turnbull pointed out the bill was fouled up in the legislative machinery and had to be extricated and returned to committee.

By an 18-8 vote the senators passed what they thought was the original form of the measure.

Senate Reconsiders

It developed, however, than an amendment had been tacked on by the Judiciary Committee to provide that wire-tapping could be authorized by virtually any judge or magistrate for what he deemed to be a good reason. A discussion of the amendment indicated most senators were in favor of deleting it. But they became so absorbed in debate they neglected to follow through on a motion to do this, and the measure was passed with the amendment still on the bill.

When Turnbull pointed this out, the senators reconsidered the vote by which they had passed it and agreed to send it back to the Judiciary.

Two other controversial measures scheduled for final Senate action this afternoon were postponed. One would exempt from the retail sales tax certain materials and machinery used in the production of newspapers. The other would set up the mechanics of putting municipal home rule into effect.

beverage licenses in Allegany County by the court.

The Senate also passed Senate Bill 481, introduced by Kimble, that would make it unlawful for any Allegany County commissioner to be financially interested in, or to profit or benefit by certain transactions to which the county is a party.

Garrett Liquor Bill Prepared In Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS — Legislation was being readied for introduction yesterday to permit sale of packaged whisky in county dispensaries in Garrett County.

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) said he is having a bill drawn up that would submit the question to Garrett County voters at the next general election.

He said an identical bill is being prepared for introduction by the Garrett representatives in the House of Delegates.

The bill would name the board of county commissioners as the governing body of the dispensary system, subject to the referendum.

It would permit the establishment of a county package store in Oakland and allow the commissioners to establish branches in other areas at their discretion.

At the present time only beer is sold in Garrett County.

Navy Gets Help In Solving Soil Problems Here

Supervisors Hear Reports At Meeting

Even the Navy can have soil conservation problems, the Board of Supervisors of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District was told yesterday afternoon at the Court House.

Martin M. Gordon, soil conservation aid for the SCS, reported yesterday that his office has assisted F. O. Bartell, a soil conservationist for the Navy Department, in preparing a detailed conservation plan for the area around the Naval Armory here. Included are a seeding and sodding program, several diversion terraces and some shrub planting.

The supervisors also discussed the new brush hog, a giant rotary mower which will cut grass and brush down to two inches, which they recently purchased. It will be available for rental by county farmers.

Some of the tentative plans for Allegany County's participation in Maryland Land Week Thursday, October 13, were presented to the soil board. The meeting and tour in the afternoon will be in the Union Grove area. That night there will be a final session, probably in the Fort Hill High School auditorium, with some nationally-known speaker as the feature attraction.

District Forester William H. Johnson is chairman of the committee to get a speaker and the general planning committee includes Assistant District Forester Harry Hartman, County Agent Joseph M. Steger and Gordon.

During the month now ending one of the largest farm ponds in Allegany County was started on the Potomac Highlands Orchard off State Route 51, not far from Paw Paw. It covers one and one-third acres.

Gordon also reported yesterday that five more county farmers have started soil conservation programs on 548 acres. Among them are Ronald F. Lohr Jr., Williams Road, 125 acres; Charles Alvin Stafford, Williams Road, 125 acres; R. E. Street, Christie Road, 20 acres; Edgar E. Grose, Frostburg, 186 acres; and Samuel Stickle, Williams Road, 92 acres.

Four of the supervisors, Ernest O. Slider, Floyd Buser, Wilbert Paul and Charles Harvey, attended the meeting along with Steger and Gordon.

At least 10 per cent of United States school children are in need of special reading help.

Senior Scouts To Attend State Conference

15 Girls Will Join Maryland Discussion

Fifteen girls and two leaders, representing three Senior Girl Scout Troops in Cumberland, will attend a state conference of Senior Girl Scouts in Baltimore, April 1 and 2. Miss Olive Hurlburt, local scout director said yesterday.

This conference, expected to attract delegations from every Maryland county and Baltimore city, is in preparation for the National Senior Girl Scout Round-Up next year in Highland State Recreation Area, near Detroit, Mich.

All Girl Scouts attending the National Round-Up must be well informed about their home state, as to history, folklore, customs and advantages, Miss Hurlburt explained.

At the Baltimore conference, which will be held in Lovely Lane Methodist Church, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "Early History of Maryland."

The general theme of the conference will be "Forty Years of Scouting in Maryland."

The leaders who will accompany the girls to Baltimore are Mrs. Ralph Phillips and Mrs. Robert Shoemaker. The Senior Scouts represent Troops 12, 15 and 21.

Two Senior Scouts from Cumberland, Mary Jane Howell and Barbara Weiner, are attending a Senior Scout Planning Board meeting in Hagerstown today.

Mary Jane Howell was recently elected secretary of the Sectional Planning Board which includes Girl Scout Councils in Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick, Martinsburg, Winchester, and Waynesboro.

Today's session is to outline plans for the annual Senior Scout Campmeeting to be held at Misty Mount, near Hagerstown, this fall.

County Treasurer Receives His Oath

County Treasurer James W. Bishop received the oath of office for his first full four-year term starting April 1.

The oath was administered by Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. Bishop was first sworn in as county treasurer October 2, 1951, to succeed the late Frederick C. Dreyer.

The central tax office would be established in Cumberland and the county commissioners would have the authority to set up sub-tax offices in other sections of the county for the convenience of the taxpayers.

The purchasing bureau bill authorizes the county commissioners to create and maintain a central purchasing bureau, headed by a purchasing agent they would appoint at a reasonable salary.

This agent would serve at their discretion, the bill states. The bureau would have to conform with laws pertaining to the state purchasing department.

The tax collector measure, if it is passed by both houses, would become effective in June, but the purchasing bill would not go into effect until January 1956.

A third bill introduced by Sen. Kimble today would have the 15-cent fee the county collector receives on each auto license sold going into the county's general fund.

Approve Gas Bill

The Senate passed Thursday Senate Bill 470 sponsored by State Sen. Clifford Friend of Garrett County that would establish a state oil and gas board with authority to regulate drilling, production and marketing of oil and gas.

The State Senate passed Senate Bill 451 introduced by Sen. Kimble which would prohibit the suspension or revocation of alcoholic

So the cuts by the Finance Committee reduced the overall total to slightly more than 269 million dollars which the State will spend in its own and federal money during the fiscal year beginning July 1. Mental hospitals accounted for one of the largest single items in his budget. Other major appropriations were marked for education, welfare, other health services, and roads.

At this afternoon's session the House disapproved raising the maximum duration of unemployment benefits from 26 to 39 weeks, but tentatively approved increasing the weekly benefit from $30 to $35.

The delegates also enacted a bill providing 41 state paid scholarships to Peabody Institute of Music in Baltimore. This follows an earlier award of state scholarships to Hood College in Frederick.

The House has pending another bill to do the same for Loyola, Morgan State, Goucher and University of Baltimore.

For a while this afternoon the Senate was under the impression it had passed and sent to the House a bill making any evidence obtained by telephone wire-tapping worthless in Maryland courts. But Majority Leader Turnbull pointed out the bill was fouled up in the legislative machinery and had to be extricated and returned to committee.

By an 18-8 vote the senators passed what they thought was the original form of the measure.

Senate Reconsiders

It developed, however, that an amendment had been tacked on by the Judiciary Committee to provide that wire-tapping could be authorized by virtually any judge or magistrate for what he deemed to be a good reason. A discussion of the amendment indicated most senators were in favor of deleting it. But they became so absorbed in debate they neglected to follow through on a motion to do this, and the measure was passed with the amendment still on the bill.

When Turnbull pointed this out, the senators reconsidered the vote by which they had passed it and agreed to send it back to the Judiciary.

Two other controversial measures scheduled for final Senate action this afternoon were postponed. One would exempt from the retail sales tax certain materials and machinery used in the production of newspapers. The other would set up the mechanics of putting municipal home rule into effect.

beverage licenses in Allegany County by the court.

The Senate also passed Senate Bill 481, introduced by Kimble, that would make it unlawful for any Allegany County commissioner to be financially interested in, or to profit or benefit by certain transactions to which the county is a party.

Garrett Liquor Bill Prepared In Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS — Legislation was being readied for introduction yesterday to permit sale of package whisky in county dispensaries in Garrett County.

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) said he is having a bill drawn up that would submit the question to Garrett County voters at the next general election.

He said an identical bill is being prepared for introduction by the Garrett representatives in the House of Delegates.

The bill would name the board of county commissioners as the governing body of the dispensary system, subject to the referendum.

It would permit the establishment of a county package store in Oakland and allow the commissioners to establish branches in other areas at their discretion.

At the present time only beer is sold in Garrett County.

A Move To Improve The Juvenile Court

Senator Kimble has introduced in the Senate a bill to reorganize the Allegany County Juvenile Court, a move long past due and one we believe will meet with the support of most people who have any contact with this court.

The bill largely is based on recommendations made after a lengthy study by a committee appointed by the Allegany County Parent-Teacher Association Council.

For years we have felt this court, because of the multitude of business before it, has been undermanned and we note agreeably that the revamping will more than double the size of the present staff.

Presently the court is composed of a magistrate, a clerk and a probation officer, but under the proposed setup, in addition to the magistrate there will be a secretary-stenographer who would transcribe all testimony for permanent records, a clerk-cashier to handle money in non-support cases, a male probation officer, a female probation officer, and a male and a female case worker.

We also believe that the Juvenile Court, as opposed to the present laws, should be open to the press. For many years, due in some part to the number of persons involved in law violations who have approached us to "keep my name out of the paper," we have felt that fear of publicity is almost as strong a deterrent to wrongdoing as fear of punishment by the courts, especially in the case of the first offender.

The present Juvenile Court law does not prohibit the press from publishing accounts of Juvenile Court cases, but it does provide that the proceedings are not to be public and that no one except witnesses and others having a direct interest in the case shall be present. It also provides that records concerning children under 18 years of age are exempt from indiscriminate public inspection. The Cumberland News, in the interest of being fair to the juvenile offender, voluntarily has raised the age in most cases to 19.

We have noticed, too, that in the District of Columbia, where the press once was banned from Juvenile Court cases, the press now is allowed to attend and report the proceedings.

A closed court, we believe, is not in the public interest, since there is no one from the public, which the press represents, to keep an eye on what transpires. A mal-functioning court cannot be called to the attention of the public if the press is barred.

Likewise, we believe that a closed court, one from which the public is banned, is against the best interests of the defendant. To substantiate this, we can point to the sordid Jelke case in New York State. Even though this is not a case involving juveniles, we believe the comparison applies.

The defendant in this case, Mickey Jelke, was found guilty, but the decision was thrown out by the Supreme Court of New York which held that his rights had been violated because the press and public were barred. Now he is being retried in open court, and we have noticed gratefully that less than 20 per cent of the newspapers in America have given it position on Page 1.

Senator Kimble has included in his bill to revamp the Juvenile Court a provision that would permit bona fide members of the press to be present at Juvenile Court hearings, for which we are grateful.

All things considered, this Juvenile Court bill is a step in the right direction.

The Guaranteed Wage

Organized labor has shifted its battlefield from higher wages, lower hours, fringe benefits to the guaranteed wage. This is a demand for the payment to a worker, whether he works or not, of a contractual sum for an annual period.

The idea is not new. It was discussed in 1947 in a report entitled "Guaranteed Wages," issued by the advisory board of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconstruction. Five years later, in 1952, the Bureau of Labor Statistics found that little progress had been made in that direction. The enterprises that were usually cited as the most successful operators of a guaranteed wage plan are the George A. Hormel Company and the Procter and Gamble Company; one selling hams, the other soap; both engaged in all-year-round markets.

The Hormel Company stated in 1950: "Certainly our company is wholly unable to redeem the money consideration in such a guarantee unless we can keep our people actually and profitably employed. The entire asset value of our company, cashing everything we own, would only be sufficient to redeem a 10 months' guarantee. If we as a company cannot make such a guarantee, neither can our community, for we know that in our town all of the bank assets including county deposits, city deposits, all the money owned by all of us, would only cover the payroll for nine months. So, when using the phrase 'guaranteed annual wage,' we must ask the question—guaranteed by what? The only guarantee we know of is the ability of management to manage, coupled with willingness of workers to work. If either fails, then the guarantee fails."

This is beyond doubt a fair statement of the problem for most companies, which can only produce wages by selling goods. When there is no market, not only wages but dividends go by the board. This issue is now to be fought out in the automobile industry in which the decision will be made by only two companies, Ford and General Motors.

It is generally believed (or at any rate, assumed) in the labor world that Ford will capitulate and that General Motors will hold out. It is also indicated that Walter Reuther, whose career is as much political as it is labor union management, will call a strike of the UAW in the event that either company or both reject the guaranteed wage.

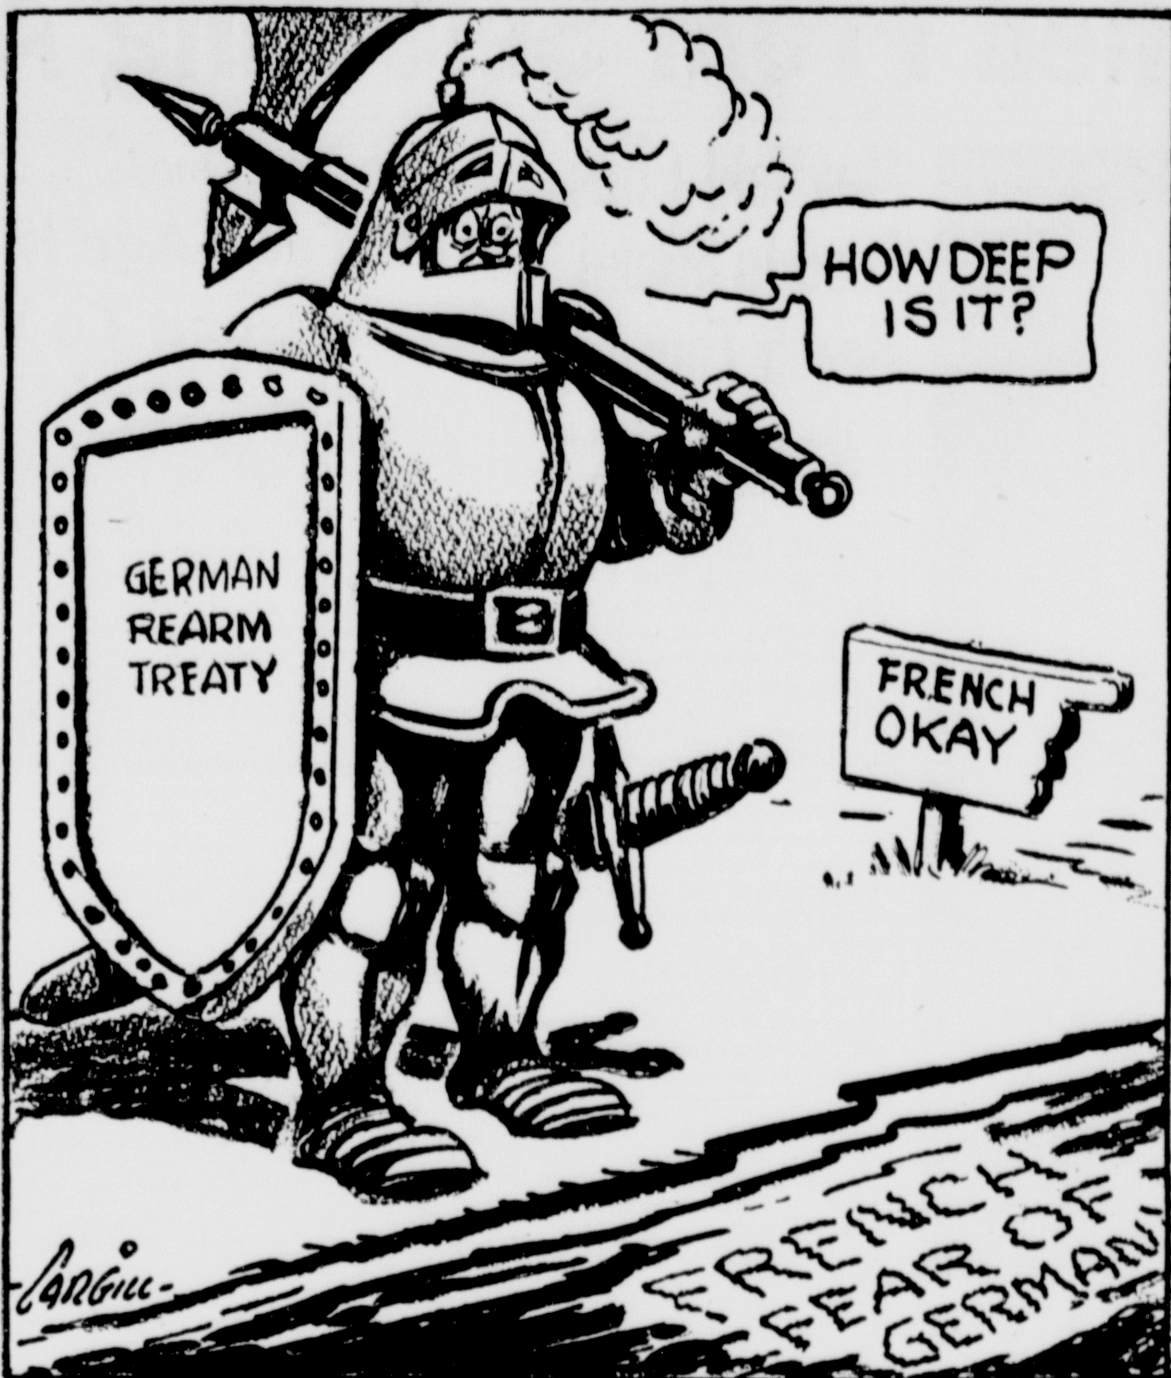

The automobile industry in the United States faces the fact that there is no sound reason for the purchase of a new car each year. The automobile industry employs styling, the gradual introduction of improvements and gadgets, credit terms, the publicized excitement of automobile shows and all sorts of devices to encourage sales each year.

Walter Reuther's position is: "The annual wage attacks this problem at the root and shifts to the employer, where it belongs, the cost of unemployment."

The danger is that adding the cost of seasonal unemployment to the price of the car may wreck the industry by stimulating buyers' resistance.

Last River To Cross

Some Democrats Seem To Worry Only Of Trivialities

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — These are strange times in Washington — strange because, with the world in a worried mood, there are Democrats in Congress who seem to be worried only about trivialities.

Thus, one senator, a prominent Democrat, wants to raise a fund to build a fence so that the squirrels which, he says, were ordered off the White House grounds could return and the President still be able to practice golf on a smooth putting green. But it turns out that Mr. Eisenhower didn't know a thing about the squirrels until he read about them in the newspapers. Maybe groundkeepers at the White House should consult congressmen in reafter before trying to keep animals of all kinds, large or small, out of the grounds.

Hypothetical Leak

Then another senator, also a prominent Democrat, says he wants to see an investigation begun to discover how the Yalta papers "leaked" to a certain newspaper — the New York Times. But it turns out the documents were actually released on the same day last week to all the newspapers simultaneously. Nobody had a "scoop." So there was only a hypothetical "leak" after all.

But assuming that the Times or any other newspaper gets a "scoop" hereafter, is the reporter to be investigated? and is his informant to be declared a "security risk"? One Democratic senator solemnly hands down a decision that whoever gave the Yalta papers to any reporter in advance is a "security risk."

The Times hasn't told who its informant was, but it wasn't the secretary of state and the documents were never formally classified as secret, either. They were just pieces of historical literature. Messrs. Churchill, Byrnes and Stettinius have all published books with data in them from the Yalta records.

The pot shouldn't call the kettle black. Senators regularly "leak" to the press information that they get from the executive branch of the government. Also, under the Truman administration, the most sensational "leaks" occurred, and nobody on the Republican side seemed to worry about the "scoops" the newspapers got.

Churchill Was Consulted

One conspicuous instance, for example, was the "leak" that gave a reporter for the New York Times a copy of the transcript made at the meeting between President Truman and General MacArthur at Wake Island in 1950 shortly after the Korean War began. A government stenographer was planted outside the door without the general's knowledge, and the notes were allowed to get into print without consulting the Far Eastern commander as to their accuracy. Dulles at least consulted Churchill before making public the Yalta papers.

Nobody at the time thought there was a "security breach" in the publication of the Wake Island papers, though the ethics used in planting a stenographer clandestinely to eavesdrop were questioned by some critics.

Also, didn't President Truman himself "leak" to a friendly senator in October 1952 a document written in 1947, revealing General Eisenhower's recommendations

Back here in the East we did more wire-tapping than a woodpecker on a harp.

Advice On Thumb-Sucking Cures Youngster Of Habit

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A health columnist never knows how far his advice will go and to what extent it is used. A West Hempstead, N. Y., mother tried a novel experiment on her 4-year-old daughter, who had been a thumb sucker since birth. The habit was becoming worse and all efforts to stop it were fruitless. When this woman saw my article on the subject she decided to read it to her little girl, explaining and emphasizing certain parts. The youngster was impressed and from then on, never put her thumb in her mouth again.

We received another letter on thumbs from a 71-year-old Massachusetts homemaker. At age 60 she developed weakness, pain, and tenderness in both thumbs. The physician diagnosed the condition as gout, gave the woman "tiny, yellow goul pills," and advised her to omit wine and organ meats such as sweetbreads, liver, and tongue. She still follows this advice and "has been completely cured for some years."

These results are not unusual but gout is uncommon in women and in addition the disease prefers toes to thumbs. There are three good remedies for gout; benemid, the latest, and the salicylates and colchicine, which are oldtimers.

Another reader thought it a bit ridiculous to write in a health column, "We all have to die from something." I do not recall having made this statement but most of us are aware of the fact that death, like taxes, is inevitable. Coping adequately with the good and bad represents a mature outlook.

The recent lung cancer scare has put cigaret manufacturers on the defensive. So many ailments have been blamed on smoking that numerous persons have developed hysteria or a real phobia against the weed.

One reader is so certain the common cold is due to inhaling smoke, she feels justified in charging the medical profession with being "either totally stupid and ignorant or sadistically vicious and unscrupulous" because they do not recognize this possibility.

How did this woman arrive at her conclusion? She grew up in a family where no one smoked and never had a cold. As a young adult she started the habit and married a man who indulged also. Their first baby never had a cold so long as she slept in her own well-ventilated room.

Ike Didn't Say Yes But Didn't Say No Either To Query About Running Again

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The "Original Eisenhower Boosters" who announced after a recent White House luncheon that Ike would run in 1956 unless world conditions improved did not tell the whole story.

What they didn't tell was that the President hinted just as strongly that he would like to take a "vacation" from the White House if there was a positive advancement in world peace during his current administration. Here is an almost verbatim account of what was said at the luncheon:

Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts broke the ice by repeating the "request of those of us who were originally for you in 1952."

"We want you to be a candidate again in 1956," said Herter. "When that question comes up, I am usually tempted to slide under the table and avoid comment," confessed the President.

This prompted GOP Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, sitting next to Ike, to remark:

"Well, Mr. President, what you might do is give us the same reply that you made in 1952. As you recall, you sent us a nice, two-page letter in which you didn't say yes and you didn't say no."

Eisenhower joined in the general laughter. Then he replied in serious vein:

"We'll just have to wait and see. Maybe we will make some real progress toward international peace in the next two years and conditions will be such that we can all take a vacation from worrying about world tensions."

Regardless of the wishful accounts that were leaked to the press, Ike's GOP guests felt that he would welcome an opportunity to retire to his Pennsylvania farm before the 1956 GOP National Convention, but still has his fingers crossed.

Ike Gets Gas Education

President Eisenhower admitted that he got a lot of new facts on the natural gas industry when 15 public officials called at the White House to tell him the consumers' side of the natural gas regulation question.

The group was led by Wisconsin's Sen. Alexander Wiley and Gov. Walter Kohler, and included northern consumers of southern natural gas. They found the President filled with arguments against government regulation, fed to him by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Herbert Hoover Jr., undersecretary of state and a former top executive of Union Oil which has a huge stake in voiding regulation of natural gas prices.

"Why should this giant federal government reach down and regulate five or six thousand gas producers?" the President immediately asked his callers. "With that many companies, competition is bound to hold the price down."

"Mr. President, those figures give a false impression," replied Attorney General Vernon Thompson of Wisconsin. "Despite the thousands of producers, this is a monopoly industry because only one company sends gas through one pipeline to supply a particular area. There is absolutely no competition to restrain the price."

The President looked startled. He had never heard these facts before.

"In the case of Wisconsin," Thompson went on, "our supplier is the Phillips Petroleum Co. Before Phillips delivered even a single cubic foot of gas to us, it had increased the agreed price several times and there was nothing we could do about it."

"Regulation wouldn't wipe out profits," Rhine explained. "It would merely keep them at a fair level."

The most embarrassing incident of the hour-long meeting came when Herbert Hoover Jr., who was one of the biggest contributors to the Nixon $18,000 fund and has long been a Union Oil executive, argued that the 27½ per cent oil depletion tax deduction was figured in as part of the 6 per cent profit they take. Hoover was trying to show that the industry's profits weren't too high.

"That's not true," Hank O'Leary of the Wisconsin Public Service Commission shot back heatedly. "The 27½ per cent comes off first and then the 6 per cent profit is figured on top of that."

Faced with this flat contradiction, Ike turned in desperation to Defense Mobilizer Flemming. Flemming was reluctant to make either Hoover or O'Leary look foolish and hesitated. But with the President looking fixedly at him, awaiting his answer, Flemming swallowed hard and replied:

"Mr. O'Leary is correct, Mr. President."

As the meeting broke up, the President's face wore a studied expression. At the last moment, he turned to Mayor Frank Zeidler of Milwaukee.

"You know," he confided, "I'm about to become a natural gas consumer myself. They just laid pipes into my Gettysburg farm."

Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming and Herbert Hoover Jr., who sat flanking the President, nodded agreement.

Hoover Was Wrong

Ike was worried because a friend from Continental Oil had told him the industry would let gas dissolve in the air rather than submit to regulation.

"That's an idle threat, Mr. President," commented Charles Rhine, head of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers. "There are billions of dollars of potential profits in natural gas and those oil fellows aren't going to give up that kind of money."

Walk And Conversation

By Brother Barnabas

One's business or profession, as well as his character, are automatically televised by his walk and conversation.

How one thinks and feels and acts habitually is reflected in his facial expressions and bodily movements.

In a certain community there was a group of aspiring women who wanted to advance in their profession, but their meager pay held them down.

While waiting for the solons to decide whether they should have a second piece of political pie, they plotted a holiday excursion.

Each agreed to deny herself a $2.47 Easter bonnet (why pay more?), which with other economies would buy a one-way ticket to Chicago.

If the divvy were not forthcoming, they would be stranded, and that would please the juvenile cult back home.

Life Is Exciting

They asked the superintendent of the works to accompany them as their gigolo, and this he agreed to do on one condition, namely, that they do or say nothing that would reveal their identity.

When they detrained and walked down the station platform, a line-up of newsmen yohood: "Lookit the schoolmarm."

Life is so exciting because one can never tell what a single day may bring forth. Your ship comes in unexpectedly. Wife's mother is coming; that's good news. Your note at the bank falls due; that's bad. Someone hands you a lemon, or a compliment; that's mixed.

If one has a sense of humor and doesn't use a sledge-hammer to crack a peanut, he can take the "bumps" and come up smiling.

It would seem fitting that each day one should begin with an upward look to the Source of his being. Someone "supposed" George Buttrick began each day with a quiet talk with his Maker. The eminent author and pulpiteer quipped back: "I never talk with anybody till after I have had my coffee."

After a simple breakfast and a connubial kiss, the day starts off with a "bang."

Season It With Salt

It's "Good morning, neighbor" and an exchange of pleasantries, but never jump off the deep end of a political argument. "Let your conversation be seasoned with salt" (Colossians 4:4), not pepper.

If you put on your cheeriest smile and tone of voice and say "Howdy, Mr. Podunk!" and in return get an abdominal "umph," don't let that spoil your day. It may be his nurse dropped him as a baby. That happened to Mephboseth, you know: (II Samuel 4:4).

One's walk is partly born with him and partly acquired. In my boyhood home town there were three doctors: one was a deacon, another practiced profanely along with medicine, and the third was a bonhomie. The local poetizer erupted:

Doc Bentley is a very good man,

Doc Mac is quite profane,

Doc Whetzel walks with a pigeon-toe,

But he gets there just the same.

The slow rangy stride of a policeman on his beat is a familiar sight downtown, but not so familiar in the outlying districts where he is often most needed.

Women who wear spike-heeled shoes acquire a graceless walk, and lay a corny and costly offering on the altar of Dame Fashion, leaving the podiatrist and chiropractor to atone for it.

If you see a tightrope walker balancing a basket of eggs crossing a chasm, you are only dreaming of President Eisenhower trying to balance a basket of congressional "egg-heads" while rope-dancing over a wild and deep political chasm reaching all the way from a Yalta denouement to the mystery of '56, with an eye to the ominous forebodings of a world war on one hand and balancing the budget on the other.

Helping Is Better

A good walker is better than a good talker. A quiet liver is better than a loud speaker. It is better to help solve a problem than to be a part of it.

"What is this conversation which you are holding with each other as you walk?" (Luke 24:17) is still a grave question.

It should not be twaddle or trivia, but it may be engaging chitchatter, such as would promote camaraderie and good digestion, leaving the weightier matters of the law for private study, some of it while on your knees.

Sharpen your wits on the story of Oedipus and the Sphinx. The Sphinx stopped all passers-by and asked a riddle. If they could not solve it they were killed. Oedipus broke the spell of the Sphinx which plunged to its death in a chasm. As a reward the Thebans made Oedipus their king.

The riddle was: "What is it that is four-footed, then two-footed, and finally three-footed?" If you, gentle reader, have the right answer and will write it on a postcard addressed in care of this station, it will be acknowledged by

High School Coaches Banned From Selecting All-Star Teams

State Schools Outlaw Certain Sports Awards

Player Of Week, Year Affected; Teams Must Practice Three Weeks

Coaches are banned from selecting all-star teams or rating high school teams and awards to high school athletes from outside organizations are taboo, effective at the start of the next school year in September 1955, according to the new regulations adopted by the Maryland Public School Athletic Association.

Under new policies adopted at a recent session at College Park, the association voted that "school personnel shall not participate for public knowledge in the selection of all-star school teams, or the rating of school teams."

The MPSSAA pointed out that it has been the custom of newspapers to have coaches of various teams select all-star teams in the several sports sponsored but under the new regulations such participation is banned.

If, however, a newspaper sports editor selects such a team, under his own name, there is nothing the association can do about it. No coach, however, can become a party to an officially announced selection of such a team.

Relative To Banquets

Appreciation banquets, given by outside non-profit and non-commercial groups (service clubs, alumni groups) to a school team shall be for the entire squad and not for any selected group of the squad. Such dinners, banquets, must be approved by and planned through the principals.

Other rules, affecting amateurism, and also MPSSAA policies were adopted as follows:

1. A school may purchase and present, as an athletic award, nothing more than a school letter or school insignia along with a certificate.

This excludes a school's presenting sweaters, jackets, etc., to any athletic squad or team. Other individual trophies to team members are similarly barred.

2. Awards from outside organizations are barred. The exception to this is that a non-profit and or a non-commercial organization (service club, alumni group) may present awards if any when they are approved by the school, and in value not to exceed $3.00.

Local Awards Outlawed

This regulation automatically outlaws some awards which have been made in past years in Allegany County. The awards which now become "out" are "Back of the Week," "Lineman of the Week," "Soccer Player of the Week," "Sportsman Award," and other similar means of recognition.

The association feels these awards are actually based on criteria of dubious value, and in addition leave much to subjective judgment.

3. One school award (a regular school letter or school insignia) and one award from an outside non-profit or non-commercial organization, value not to exceed $3 (see No. 2 above) shall be the maximum number allowed to an individual school athlete for one season in any one sport; except that, "it is not intended to preclude acceptance of a medal or pin of small intrinsic value which is customarily used for track and similar activities and is presented by the sponsoring organization."

If a school participates in a track meet where each winner in an event is presented a medal or a pin, the boy involved may accept such an award. However, if in any meet, the high point scorer is to be presented with a watch, such an award cannot be accepted.

4. An award of appreciation may be given a school team, for the school, by an outside non-profit organization provided such an award has been approved by and planned through the superintendent or his representative, and the award becomes the permanent property of the school.

Trophies For One Year

This does not exclude the awarding of a trophy by a newspaper, radio station or a TV station. However, it does require an award for each separate athletic season, and cannot be an award which must be won three times to become the permanent possession of any school.

5. Considerable discussion centered around awards of higher intrinsic value that $3, now current, such an award to be open only to a graduating senior, and the presentation to be made at the time of graduation, or "near" that period of the school year.

No new such award can be added to the current number without prior approval of the State Board of Control of the MPSSAA.

No member school shall participate in any regularly scheduled game in any sport, baseball excepted, until at least three weeks of practice have been carried on. Twenty-one calendar days must have elapsed after and including the first day of practice.

Three Weeks Practice

The effect which this new regulation can have in Allegany County involves basketball. Basketball practice is permitted to start Nov-

CUMBERLAND HURLER HEADS SOUTH—Robert Arthur "Bobby" Dawson, 18-year-old local pitcher, is shown as he boarded a Blue Ridge bus yesterday as he headed for Melbourne, Fla., and the New York Giants' minor league training camp. His dad, Jacob D. Dawson, 203 Paca street, saw "Bobby" off. The young righthander who has pitched for the Lions Club, Allegany High School, Fort Cumberland Post and Barrelville since 1951 was signed by the Giants after he was graduated from high school. He has been assigned to the Mayfield (Ky.) Club of the Kitty League.

32 Horses Set For England's Jumping Race

Tudor Line Favored In Grand National

Aintree, England, March 25 (AP)—A field of 32 horses was set for the 100th running of the world famous Grand National Steeplechase tomorrow, and unless form goes haywire, the race is almost certain to be another romp for the Irish.

Three of the top four betting favorites in the probable field were trained across the Irish Sea in Tipperary. Five less fancied contenders also came from Ireland, and there isn't a bad chaser in the lot.

Among the best Irish hopes are Early Mist, the 1953 winner, Quare Times, Copp, Carey's Cottage, Mr. Linnett and Royal Tan, last year's winner now owned by Prince Aly Khan.

Expect Heavy Turf

Rain fell at Aintree today and officials said the turf was likely to be heavy for the exhausting grind over the four miles, 856 yards course with its 30 rugged jumps.

With the royal family, one of the world's surest attractions, due to attend the race, a crowd of some 200,000 to 250,000 was expected. More rain, however, would cut the attendance.

The Queen, Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth will be in the royal box. They'll be rooting for M'as-Tu-Vu, the Queen Mother's horse, who certainly has a chance.

Tudor Line Favored

Tudor Line, beaten a neck by Royal Tan in last year's race, ousted Early Mist tonight as the betting favorite in the final odds callower by Britain's top bookmakers in London.

They made Tudor Line 7-1, while Early Mist remained at 15-2. Royal Tan was 28-1. Irish Lizard, making his fifth National attempt, was listed at 10-1, along with Quare Times.

This is one of Britain's big betting races. Millions of Englishmen will have a wager on the race, which is scheduled to start at 3:15 p.m. (10:15 a.m., EST). A big money Irish hospital sweepstakes is decided on the result.

The race winner will collect $25,085, with $3,040 for second place, $1,520 for third, and $758 for fourth.

ember 15. Some schools have played early in December. With practice starting November 15, 1955, the first scheduled game could be played on Tuesday, December 6.

Allegany county delegates to the assembly were Raymond O. McCullough, principal, J. Ray Hull, football and track coach, and John C. Meyers, soccer, basketball and baseball mentor. All three participated in no small degree in the discussions, very frankly expressing opinions, and cast the three votes allowed this county.

Bobby Dawson Heads South For Giants' Training Camp

Due At Melbourne Sunday; Assigned To Kitty League

Robert Arthur "Bobby" Dawson, 18, one of Cumberland's most promising young pitchers, left yesterday for Melbourne, Fla., where he is scheduled to report Sunday to the New York Giants' minor league training camp.

"Bobby" left at 5:10 p. m., and will make the trip south by bus. He was signed last year by Scout Nick Shinkoff of the New York Giants after he had worked out at the Giants' tryout camp in Gaithersburg, Md.

The World Champions assigned him to their farm team at Mayfield, Kentucky, in the Class D Kitty League. The Mayfield squad will be in training with other New York affiliates at Mayfield.

Dawson first attracted attention as a 14-year-old twirler in the Cumberland Hot Stove League of 1951 when he won 17 games and lost one for the Lions Club. The following season he played third base in the same circuit. In 1953, his junior year at Allegany High School, he won one game and lost two. Last year he was the Campers' workhorse and helped give Coach Roy Lester's team a share of the Bi-State Conference title with LaSalle by posting nine victories against two losses.

The young righthander had a 5-0 record with Fort Cumberland Post in the American Legion Junior Baseball League in 1953 and after he was graduated from Allegany High School last June he pitched for Barrelville, champions of the Pen-Mar League, winning four and losing one.

With four different teams in three seasons "Bobby" chalked up 36 wins against six setbacks.

Scout Shinkoff of the Giants liked the hustle that Dawson showed at the tryout camp and remarked: "That lad isn't afraid to open up. He's a hard worker out there on the mound and I hope he makes good."

"Bobby" tips the beam at 168 and is well built. He will be 19 years old on August 28.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob D. Dawson, 203 Paca Street.

Mayfield Cops Lead In Miami Beach Tourney

Jumps From Eighth With Card Of 132

MIAMI, BEACH, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Sensational putting by Shelley Mayfield produced a record-shattering 64 today and gave him the second-round lead in the $12,500 Miami Beach Open golf tournament.

Mayfield, a 30-year-old native of Texas who now calls Westbury, L.I., his home, knocked eight strokes off par and one stroke off the competitive record for the Bayshore Municipal course. The old mark of 65 had stood for many years and been equalled several times.

With his first round 68, Mayfield posted a 36-hole total of 132 to bounce up from eighth place to lead the pack at the halfway point in the tournament. His nearest competitor, young Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, was two strokes in his rear.

Rosburg, who plans to quit the tournament trail and settle down to a peaceful job after this year, fired a 68 to go with yesterday's 66 for 134. For a man with a wife and three kids, Rosburg said, the weekly scramble for cash on the golf circuit is "just too tough a way to make a living."

The first-day leader, Peter Thomson, the 25-year-old British Open champ from Australia, put a 70 with yesterday's 65 to skid into a third-place tie with Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., at 135. Littler registered a 69 after a first-round 66.

Tied for fifth place, four strokes off the lead, were Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Bob Inman of Tulsa, Okla., John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., and John Serafin of Fox Hills, Pa.

Baker Defeats Julio Mederos

Pittsburgher Earns Unanimous Decision

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—For 10 rounds, Bob Baker, the 28-year-old Pittsburgh heavyweight, tried to measure Julio Mederos, a little known Cuban, for the knockout punch, but in the end had to be content with a unanimous decision tonight in Madison Square Garden. Baker weighed a svelt 209½, Mederos 190½.

There was no mistaking who won the fight, although there were no knockdowns and each battler got off unscathed. Baker, except for the first round when he probed his man, was on the offensive all the way. Only he never could get in that big punch.

Referee Ruby Goldstein gave it to Baker 9-0 with one even, while Judges Artie Aidala and Jack Gordon had it 8-1-1. The Associated Press gave it to Baker 9-1.

Watch This One! Tall Teen-Age Moundsman Looks Good To Washington

By WALTER L. JOHNS Central Press Sports Editor FOR A 19-YEAR-OLD youth who has had but a year and a few months of professional baseball experience, Ted Wade Abernathy is drawing an unusual amount of attention in the Washington Senators.

Owner Clark Griffith regards the Stanley, N. C., righthander, who resembles Walter Johnson in stature and throws like Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, as the shining light of the rookie contingent.

Manager Charlie Dressen talks about him as a fellow who could help the Senators' pitching staff. Even the writers in camp talked about the big fellow and, after looking at his record, one is bound to be impressed.

Abernathy is 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 215 pounds now. He was signed by Scout Chick Suggs while playing sandlot baseball around Kannapolis, N. C., after a very successful high school career as a pitcher and outfielder.

SIGNED in February, 1952, the Senators sent him to Roanoke Rapids, N. C., where he won 20 games pitching for an eighth-place ball club.

He led that league with 293 strikeouts in 255 innings pitched and exhibited good control as he walked but 103. His 1.69 earned-run average was the best in organized baseball that year.

The youth was sent from Class D to Double-A — Chattanooga, Tenn.—the next season and pitched seven games, winning four and losing but one. He hurled two shutouts and allowed only nine earned runs.

He went into the armed service on May 20, 1953, however, and remained in service through the 1954 season. Pitching for Fort McPherson he had a record of 13-3.

While in the service Ted almost lost his life in an auto accident in which the car rolled over. Luckily, he escaped with scratches and one tooth gone.

Pete Appleton, now on the Washington scouting staff, helped him most with his pitching. Pete was a former major leaguer and Abernathy's former manager.

In high school Abernathy was an all-star basketball player, too. He played in the state tourney and was one of the standouts.

Ted is married and makes his winter home in Alexis, N. C. He has one brother who plays Little League ball. His dad is a weaver in a mill.

Workmeister's Goal Wins; Title Playoffs Get Under Way Today

CLEVELAND, March 25 (AP)—Wes Santee, tall and talkative Kansan, thrilled a Knights of Columbus track meet crowd here tonight by setting a new meet mile record of 4 minutes 4.6 seconds—just a second more than the world indoor mark.

Santee's fine performance was a second slower than that of Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark in New York last Feb. 5 when Nielsen's time of 4 minutes 3.6 seconds clipped two-tenths of a second off a world mark Santee had set at Boston the week before.

The quarter-mile times of the race were 62.8 seconds, 2 minutes, 4.5 seconds, and 3 minutes, 6 seconds. Art Dalzell, a fellow Kansan of Santee and his favorite pace-maker, led most of the first half, with Santee only about two strides behind and R. E. McMillen of Los Angeles A. C. close in.

NEW YORK (AP)—Top professional athletes will be featured on a special weekly television series this summer direct from their home towns. The program, "Junior Champions," will have the stars discussing sports with young star athletes.

Stan Musial will be heard from St. Louis, Bob Cousy from Boston, Robin Roberts from Philadelphia, Crazy Legs Hirsch from Los Angeles and Ed Matheys from Milwaukee.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Joe Brown has been the Miami Herald's greyhound handicapper for 27 years. Recently a stray dog showed up at the Brown home and Joe fed it. The dog came back several times, and each time was rewarded with food and water.

Finally the pup bit a neighbor, who called police. Joe was informed that he is responsible for the stray.

"I'm thinking of switching to horses," Joe said.

A meeting of the Eckhart team of the Pen-Mar Baseball League will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Eckhart Community Center.

Canadian Girl Swimmer Upsets Dope In Mexico

Beth Whittall Cops Two Events In P-A

By TED SMITS MEXICO CITY, March 25 (AP)—Beth Whittall, an 18-year-old Purdue University sophomore from Montreal, smashed the hopes of the United States' brightest swimming stars today to score a sensational double slam in the Pan-American Games.

The little Canadian girl won the 100 meter butterfly event in a close race with Betty Mullen of Washington, D.C., and then came back with virtually no rest to sweep to victory in the 400 meter women's free style. She set a Pan-American record in the butterfly with 1:16.2.

Miss Whittall's brilliant individual performance plus a triumph by Mexico's Eulalia Rios in the men's 200-meter butterfly event put an abrupt halt on this last day of water competition to the United States' heretofore complete domination of the sport.

Uncle Sam's forces had to be content with two of the five championships decided under leaden skies and through intermittent rain at the outdoor swimming stadium.

U. S. Wins 800 Meters Olympic champion Jimmy McLane, previously a winner in the 400 meter and 1,500 meter free style events, anchored the U.S. 800 meter freestyle relay team to a record-shattering victory over the Argentines, winning by a full nine seconds in nine minutes flat.

The U.S. women's 400 meter medley relay team, anchored by 15-year-old Wanda Lee Werner of Bethesda, Md., edged out Canada in a close race which ended the Pan-American swimming competition for the 1955 games.

Miss Werner had to stand off a strong challenge by Canada's Virginia Grant in the final and freestyle leg of the race to bring victory. The time was 5:11.6, a games record since it was the first time held.

With the curtain gradually falling on the games, to be completed with closing ceremonies and final equestrian events, the U.S. picked up extra unofficial team points from unexpected quarters.

Walter Staley Jr., of Mexico, Mo., emerged as the unofficial winner of the three-day cavalry hunter horse tournament in the equestrian competition after a three-nation protest lodged with the organizing committee.

Oakland Team Scores The Athens club of Oakland, Calif., composed of five water ballerinas, won the team title in synchronized swimming to give the U.S. a complete sweep in this specialty. Previously Beulah Gundling of Cedar Rapids, Ia., had won the individual crown and Ellen Rich and Connie Todoroff of Detroit had taken the pairs title.

The quintet of would-be Esther Williams included 16-year-old Loretta Barrios, Dawn Bean, Joan and Lynn Pawson and Sally Phillips.

Milwaukee Braves Top Atlanta, 13-5 ATLANTA, March 25 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves hit five home runs, two of them by Joe Adock, in winning an easy 13-5 victory over Atlanta, the Braves' Southern Association farm club, tonight.

Del Crandall, George Crowe and Jack Caro also smashed homers. Paul Rambone homered for Atlanta in the ninth inning with two on base.

One school award (a regular school letter or school insignia) and one award from an outside non-profit or non-commercial organization, value not to exceed $3 (see No. 2 above) shall be the maximum number allowed to an individual school athlete for one season in any one sport; except that, "it is not intended to preclude acceptance of a medal or pin of small intrinsic value which is customarily used for track and similar activities and is presented by the sponsoring organization."

If a school participates in a track meet where each winner in an event is presented a medal or a pin, the boy involved may accept such an award. However, if in any meet, the high point scorer is to be presented with a watch, such an award cannot be accepted.

4. An award of appreciation may be given a school team, for the school, by an outside non-profit organization provided such an award has been approved by and planned through the superintendent or his representative, and the award becomes the permanent property of the school.

Trophies For One Year

This does not exclude the awarding of a trophy by a newspaper, radio station or a TV station. However, it does require an award for each separate athletic season, and cannot be an award which must be won three times to become the permanent possession of any school.

5. Considerable discussion centered around awards of higher intrinsic value that $3, now current, such an award to be open only to a graduating senior, and the presentation to be made at the time of graduation, or "near" that period of the school year.

No new such award can be added to the current number without prior approval of the State Board of Control of the MPSSAA.

No member school shall participate in any regularly scheduled game in any sport, baseball excepted, until at least three weeks of practice have been carried on. Twenty-one calendar days must have elapsed after and including the first day of practice.

CUMBERLAND HURLER HEADS SOUTH—Robert Arthur "Bobby" Dawson, 18-year-old local pitcher, is shown as he boarded a Blue Ridge bus yesterday as he headed for Melbourne, Fla., and the New York Giants' minor league training camp. His dad, Jacob D. Dawson, 203 Paca street, saw "Bobby" off. The young righthander who has pitched for the Lions Club, Allegany High School, Fort Cumberland Post and Barreilleville since 1951 was signed by the Giants after he was graduated from high school. He has been assigned to the Mayfield (Ky.) Club of the Kitty League.

32 Horses Set For England's Jumping Race

Tudor Line Favored In Grand National

AINTREE, England, March 25 (AP)—A field of 32 horses was set for the 100th running of the world famous Grand National Steeplechase tomorrow, and unless form goes haywire, the race is almost certain to be another romp for the Irish.

Three of the top four betting favorites in the probable field were trained across the Irish Sea in Tipperary. Five less fancied contenders also came from Ireland, and there isn't a bad chaser in the lot. Among the best Irish hopes are Early Mist, the 1953 winner, Quare Times, Cope, Carey's Cottage, Mr. Linnett and Royal Tan, last year's winner now owned by Prince Aly Khan.

Expect Heavy Turf

Rain fell at Aintree today and officials said the turf was likely to be heavy for the exhausting grind over the four miles, 856 yards course with its 30 rugged jumps.

With the royal family, one of the world's surest attractions, due to attend the race, a crowd of some 200,000 to 250,000 was expected. More rain, however, would cut the attendance.

The Queen, Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth will be in the royal box. They'll be rooting for M-as-Tu-Yu, the Queen Mother's horse, who certainly has a chance.

Tudor Line Favored

Tudor Line, beaten a neck by Royal Tan in last year's race, ousted Early Mist tonight as the betting favorite in the final odds callow by Britain's top bookmakers in London.

They made Tudor Line 7-1, while Early Mist remained at 15-2. Royal Tan was 28-1. Irish Lizard, making his fifth National attempt, was listed at 10-1, along with Quare Times.

This is one of Britain's big betting races. Millions of Englishmen will have a wager on the race, which is scheduled to start at 3:15 p.m. (10:15 a.m. EST). A big money Irish hospital sweepstakes is decided on the result.

The race winner will collect $25,085, with $3,040 for second place, $1,520 for third, and $758 for fourth.

ember 15. Some schools have played early in December. With practice starting November 15, 1955, the first scheduled game could be played on Tuesday, December 6.

Allegany county delegates to the assembly were Raymond O. McCullough, principal, J. Ray Hull, football and track coach, and John C. Meyers, soccer, basketball and baseball mentor. All three participated in no small degree in the discussions, very frankly expressing opinions, and cast the three votes allowed this county.

Bobby Dawson Heads South For Giants' Training Camp

Due At Melbourne Sunday; Assigned To Kitty League

Robert Arthur "Bobby" Dawson, 18, one of Cumberland's most promising young pitchers, left yesterday for Melbourne, Fla., where he is scheduled to report Sunday to the New York Giants' minor league training camp.

"Bobby" left at 5:10 p. m., and will make the trip south by bus. He was signed last year by Scout Nick Shinkoff of the New York Giants after he had worked out at the Giants' tryout camp in Gaithersburg, Md.

The World Champions assigned him to their farm team at Mayfield, Kentucky, in the Class D Kitty League. The Mayfield squad will be in training with other New York affiliates at Mayfield.

Dawson first attracted attention as a 14-year-old twirler in the Cumberland Hot Stove League of 1951 when he won 17 games and lost one for the Lions Club. The following season he played third base in the same circuit. In 1953, his junior year at Allegany High School, he won one game and lost two. Last year he was the Campers' workhorse and helped give Coach Roy Lester's team a share of the Bi-State Conference title with LaSalle by posting nine victories against two losses.

The young righthander had a 5-0 record with Fort Cumberland Post in the American Legion Junior Baseball League in 1953 and after he was graduated from Allegany High School last June he pitched for Barreilleville, champions of the Pen-Mar League, winning four and losing one.

With four different teams in three seasons "Bobby" chalked up 36 wins and six setbacks.

Scout Shinkoff of the Giants liked the hustle that Dawson showed at the tryout camp and remarked: "That lad isn't afraid to open up. He's a hard worker out there on the mound and I hope he makes good."

"Bobby" tips the beam at 168 and is well built. He will be 19 years old on August 28.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob D. Dawson, 203 Paca Street.

Mayfield Cops Lead In Miami Beach Tourney

Jumps From Eighth With Card Of 132

MIAMI, BEACH, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Sensational putting by Shelley Mayfield produced a record-shattering 64 today and gave him the second-round lead in the $12,500 Miami Beach Open golf tournament.

Mayfield, a 30-year-old native of Texas who now calls Westbury, L.I., his home, knocked eight strokes off par and one stroke off the competitive record for the Bayshore Municipal course. The old mark of 65 had stood for many years and been equalled several times.

With his first round 68, Mayfield posted a 36-hole total of 132 to bounce up from eighth place to lead the pack at the halfway point in the tournament. His nearest competitor, young Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, was two strokes in his rear.

Rosburg, who plans to quit the tournament trail and settle down to a peaceful job after this year, fired a 68 to go with yesterday's 66 for 134. For a man with a wife and three kids, Rosburg said, the weekly scramble for cash on the golf circuit is "just too tough a way to make a living."

The first-day leader, Peter Thomson, the 25-year-old British Open champ from Australia, put a 70 with yesterday's 65 to slide into a third-place tie with Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., at 135. Littler registered a 69 after a first-round 66.

Tied for fifth place, four strokes off the lead, were Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Bob Inman of Tulsa, Okla., John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., and John Serafin of Fox Hills, Pa.

Baker Defeats Julio Mederos

Pittsburgher Earns Unanimous Decision

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—For 10 rounds, Bob Baker, the 28-year-old Pittsburgh heavyweight, tried to measure Julio Mederos, a little known Cuban, for the knockout punch, but in the end had to be content with a unanimous decision tonight in Madison Square Garden. Baker weighed a svelt 209½, Mederos 190½.

There was no mistaking who won the fight, although there were no knockdowns and each batter got off unscathed. Baker, except for the first round when he probed his man, was on the offensive all the way. Only he never could get in that big punch.

Referee Ruby Goldstein gave it to Baker 9-0 with one even, while Judges Artie Adala and Jack Gordon had it 8-1-1. The Associated Press gave it to Baker 9-1.

Valley High Crowns Intramural Champs

LONA CONING, March 25—In the girls' intramural basketball finals held at Valley High School the winners were 12-D Senior High and 8-4 Junior High.

In the Junior High finals 8-4 won over 9-3. There were twelve teams in the playoffs. Members of the 8-4 squad are Rita Kirkwood, Bonnie Rennie, Shirley Warnick, Mary Lou Duckworth, Suzie Miller, Judy Moffatt, Judy Atkinson, Ruth Fisher and Joan Foote.

Roy Hurry runs the 100-yard dash on Georgia Tech's track team.

Pete Kozloski of Plains, Pa., bowled the most sanctioned 300 games in 1954. He rolled five perfect games.

Tall Teen-Age Moundsman Looks Good To Washington

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor
FOR A 19-YEAR-OLD youth who has had but a year and a few months of professional baseball experience, Ted Wade Abernathy is drawing an unusual amount of attention in the Washington Senators.

Owner Clark Griffith regards the Stanley, N. C., righthander, who resembles Walter Johnson in stature and throws like Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, as the shining light of the rookie contingent.

Manager Charlie Dressen talks about him as a fellow who could help the Senators' pitching staff. Even the writers in camp talked about the big fellow and, after looking at his record, one is bound to be impressed.

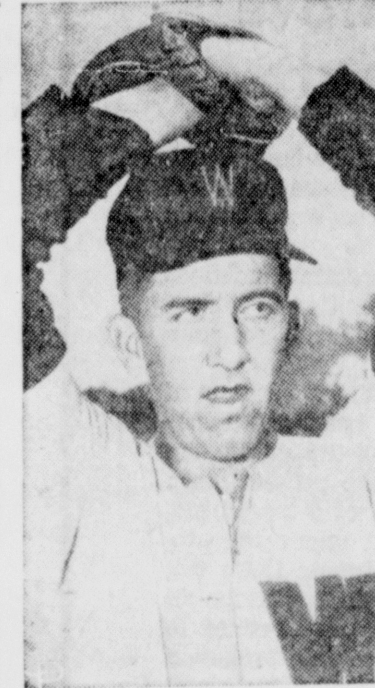

Abernathy is 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 215 pounds now. He was signed by Scout Chick Suggs while playing sandlot baseball around Kannapolis, N. C., after a very successful high school career as a pitcher and outfielder.

SIGNED in February, 1952, the Senators sent him to Roanoke Rapids, N. C., where he won 20 games pitching for an eighth-place ball club.

He led that league with 293 strikeouts in 255 innings pitched and exhibited good control as he walked but 103. His 1.69 earned-run average was the best in organized baseball that year.

The youth was sent from Class D to Double-A — Chattanooga, Tenn.—the next season and pitched seven games, winning four and losing but one. He hurled two shutouts and allowed only nine earned runs.

He went into the armed service on May 20, 1953, however, and remained in service through the 1954 season. Pitching for Fort McPherson he had a record of 13-3.

While in the service Ted almost lost his life in an auto accident in which the car rolled over. Luckily, he escaped with scratches and one tooth gone.

Pete Appleton, now on the Washington scouting staff, helped him most with his pitching. Pete was a former major leaguer and Abernathy's former manager.

In high school Abernathy was an all-star basketball player, too. He played in the state tourney and was one of the standouts.

Ted is married and makes his winter home in Alexis, N. C. He has one brother who plays Little League ball. His dad is a weaver in a mill.

St. Luke's Lutheran Defeats Park Place In Playoff, 41-40

Workmeister's Goal Wins; Title Playoffs Get Under Way Today

Coach Russ Robertson's St. Luke's Lutheran cagers qualified for the Sunday School Openball League playoffs, which open today by edging Park Place Methodist in an overtime thriller yesterday on the YMCA court by the score of 41-40.

Yesterday's playoff game was necessitated when both teams wound up the season tied for eighth place with 20-8 records.

Workmeister Wins Game
John Workmeister's winning shot was in the air as the final whistle sounded. Bob Bennett's basket landed in the lead at 40-39.

St. Luke's led at the quarter, 8-4, retained its four-point advantage at halftime, and was eight points in front when the third period ended, 26-18.

In the final stanza with St. Luke's leading, 28-23, baskets by Joe Riley and Charley Martin and a free throw by Riley enabled Park Place to tie the score at 28-28 with 2:24 remaining.

Joe Smith sent St. Luke's to the fore with a fielder but a foul by Riley and a fielder by Martin gave Park Place a 31-30 edge. Mike Gingrich scored from the field for St. Luke's, Gene Rexroad tallied from the charity line and Joe Smith dumped in a goal for St. Luke's.

With 32 seconds remaining Bennett connected with a two-handed shot that knotted the score at 34-34 and that's the way the regulation game ended.

Riley's doubledecker tied it at 38-38 in the extra period. Ronald Smith netted a free throw and Bennett's basket came before Workmeister's shot settled the issue.

Joe Smith and Gingrich sparked St. Luke's scoring with 15 and 12 tallies. Bennett and Martin with 15 and 14 set the pace for Park Place.

"Skip" Nave, center, fouled out for St. Luke's at the start of the fourth period.

Canadian Girl Swimmer Upsets Dope In Mexico

Beth Whittall Cops Two Events In P-A

By TED SMITS

MEXICO CITY, March 25 (AP)—Beth Whittall, an 18-year-old Purdue University sophomore from Montreal, smashed the hopes of the United States' brightest swimming stars today to score a sensational double slam in the Pan-American Games.

The lithe Canadian girl won the 100 meter butterfly event in a close race with Betty Mullen of Washington, D.C., and then came back with virtually no rest to sweep to victory in the 400 meter women's free style. She set a Pan-American record in the butterfly with 1:16.2.

Miss Whittall's brilliant individual performance plus a triumph by Mexico's Eulalia Rios in the men's 200-meter butterfly event put an abrupt halt on this last day of water competition to the United States' heretofore complete domination of the sport.

Uncle Sam's forces had to be content with two of the five championships decided under leaden skies and through intermittent rain at the outdoor swimming stadium.

U. S. Wins 800 Meters

Olympic champion Jimmy McLane, previously a winner in the 400 meter and 1,500 meter free style events, anchored the U.S. 800 meter freestyle relay team to a record-shattering victory over the Argentines, winning by a full nine seconds in nine minutes flat.

The U.S. women's 400 meter medley relay team, anchored by 15-year-old Wanda Lee Werner of Bethesda, Md., edged out Canada in a close race which ended the Pan-American swimming competition for the 1955 games.

Miss Werner had to stand off a strong challenge by Canada's Virginia Grant in the final and freestyle leg of the race to bring victory. The time was 5:11.6, a games record since it was the first time held.

With the curtain gradually falling on the games, to be completed with closing ceremonies and final equestrian events, the U.S. picked up extra unofficial team points from unexpected quarters.

Walter Staley Jr., of Mexico, Mo., emerged as the unofficial winner of the three-day cavalry and hunter horse tournament in the equestrian competition after a three-nation protest lodged with the organizing committee.

Oakland Team Scores

The Athens club of Oakland, Calif., composed of five water ballerinas, won the team title in synchronized swimming to give the U.S. a complete sweep in this specialty. Previously Beulah Gundling of Cedar Rapids, Ia., had won the individual crown and Ellen Richard and Connie Todoroff of Detroit had taken the pairs title.

The quintet of would-be Esther Williams included 16-year-old Loretta Barrios, Dawn Bean, Joanne and Lynn Pawson and Sally Phillips.

Milwaukee Braves Top Atlanta, 13-5

ATLANTA, March 25 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves hit five home runs, two of them by Joe Adcock, in winning an easy 13-5 victory over Atlanta, the Braves' Southern Association farm club, tonight.

Del Crandall, George Crowe and Jack Carro also smashed homers. Paul Rombone smashed for Atlanta in the ninth inning with two on base.

Westward Ho Scores At Bowie; Florida Derby Set Today

Flying Petal's Payoff is $208 In Second Race

Wagon Drill Beaten By Head In Feature, Amber's Folly 3rd

BOWIE, March 25.—(INS)—Gaining his fourth victory in a career which includes just five starts, Breckinridge Long's Westward Ho ran the fastest six furlong in the meeting here today to win the Maryland Day Purse by a head over Wagon Drill.

Just three-quarters of a length off the leaders was Amber's Folly, the Derby-Preakness-Belmont nominee who was making his first start since finishing fifth to Nashua in Hialeah's Flamingo Stakes.

Westward Ho was timed in 1:10.3, just one-fifth off the track record. The record was set by Dinner Winner under 114 pounds Nov. 25, 1954. Westward Ho carried 119 today.

Capably piloted by Nick Shuk, Westward Ho assumed command at the start, then was joined by Mrs. Sam Lewin's Wagon Drill, an $11,000 claim during the Hialeah meeting.

The pair raced as a team for almost a half-mile with Westward Ho, a 3-year-old son of Lochinvair, barely outgunning the 3-year-old daughter of Spy Song.

Going best of all at the finish was Eugene Constantin Jr.'s Amber's Folly who was steadily paring down the leaders' margin in his come-from-behind effort.

Westward Ho, solid favorite with the crowd of 11,112 fans on this cloudy day, returned a $4 win mutual.

Biggest mutual payoff of Maryland's 1955 season came about in the second race when Flying Petal scored at 208 for $2. Owned and trained by Ernest Green, the 4-year-old son of Jack High was making his first start since the Pimlico meeting last fall.

Flying Petal completed a $426.60 daily double (Nos. 1 and 5) which was started by Cedar Farm's Le Jure, $3.80 for $2 winner of the opener under Bill Hartack.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 25.—(INS)—Calumet Farms' Citation was the first and only horse to earn more than a million dollars on the turf. Belair Stud's Nashua—last year's champion two-year-old—may be the second to reach such fabulous earnings.

There are many who believe Nashua will get his million before he is retired, and there are even a few who think he might reach a million this year.

These Nashua supporters are presupposing, of course, that the big strapping colt will remain sound and that he will have an all-conquering year. That's a lot of supposing because there is a colt called Summer Tan also ready to shoot for the million, too.

Summer Tan was the top juvenile money winner last year with $230,421. Mrs. John W. Galbreath's colt apparently is recovered fully from a stiff bout with a near-fatal virus last fall and has been shipped to Belmont Park for training.

Nashua won't have Summer Tan to contend with when he goes to the post in the $100,000 added Florida Derby tomorrow at Gulfstream Park.

Nashua won $192,865 last year and made a good start this year.

Royal Bay Gem, Helioscope Run At Bowie Today

Latter 6-5 Favorite In $15,000 Handicap

BOWIE, March 25.—Two big campaigners, William Helioscope, and Eugene Constantin's Royal Bay Gem, make their 1955 return to racing tomorrow in the $15,000-added Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie.

Helioscope was expected to go to the post a 6-5 favorite in the seven furlong event for three year olds and up.

In view of the facts it's his first race since he won the Pimlico Special in November and he has much more important races coming up, a lot of betting money is expected to ride on two other entries who have already been in action and shown they are fit.

The two are Elcam Stable's Ifabody and Auburn Farm's Old Glendale, who has won two races in Bowie's current meeting. They are expected to go off at about 3-1 and 6-1 respectively.

Royal Bay Gem has been out of racing for about eight months and is expected to rate about 10-1. He will carry 113 pounds to Helioscope's 128. Ifabody is weighted at 112. Old Glendale at 109. Five other entries include New Dream at 111, Resilient at 110, Nick Jimmie at 109, Dinner Winner at 108 and Arson, 105.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 25.—The Baltimore Orioles scored a 10-3 victory over Kansas City in the 7th inning opening game of a double-header but the Athletics came back to win the 9th inning exhibition nightcap, 7-4.

Bob Trice started for the Athletics in the nightcap and hurled six scoreless innings, blanking the Orioles on three scattered hits. Bill Renna staked him to a 4-run lead in the first inning by blasting Joe Coleman for a grand-slam home run.

Zoning Appeals Board Approves Two Applications

The Board of Zoning Appeals Thursday night approved two building application appeals at its meeting in City Hall.

Three cases were to have been heard, but one was withdrawn. The board approved the application of Harry M. Cave of 625 Lincoln Street to build a 22 by 24-foot concrete block garage with an apartment on top of it at the rear of his lot. This is located in a Residential Zoning District.

Also passed was the application of Paul W. Holtzman of 216 Seymour Street to construct a three-car garage at the rear of 35-37 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Gilbert Minnigh of Bedford Road, who made application to occupy 214 Mary Street as a part-time printing shop, withdrew his appeal.

Holtzman and Cave had applications turned down by the city building engineer because of technical requirements for Residential B zoning districts.

WM Railway Agrees To Area Crossing

Paul S. Parsons, general counsel for the Western Maryland Railway, has informed Del. Estel C. Kelley that the railroad has no objection to Allegany County using the crossing at Flat Rock near Barton.

Parsons said there are only two trains each day at the Flat Rock Bridge. The railroad would not furnish warning lights, but would erect signs, Del. Kelley said he was told.

The delegates had endeavored to have the Flat Rock Bridge and the grade crossing opened by the State Roads Commission so that Flat Rock Road could be opened to Maryland Route 36.

Russell H. McCain, chairman of the commission, reported that the matter of opening this thoroughfare is a county issue, and not the state's.

Catherine Stoutamayer was granted a permit to construct a 32 by 26 foot building on Part of Lots 1 and 2, East Holland Street, at a cost of $6,500. The structure will have a concrete block foundation, brick veneer walls and asphalt shingle roof.

Joseph F. Reissig, 508 Shriver Avenue, obtained a permit for an $8,000 dwelling on Lot 19, Block D, (812) Shriver Avenue. It will be 40 by 32 feet with concrete block foundation, brick veneer walls and composition shingle roof.

Naughton Is Named To Local Draft Board

Marcus A. Naughton, vice president of the Cumberland Savings Bank, has been named a member of local Draft Board 27.

His appointment by Henry C. Stanwood, state director of Selective Service, was announced yesterday by P. Emmett Fahey, clerk-coordinator of Cumberland boards.

Naughton succeeds Alphonsus L. Will, 66, who died February 21. He resides at 9 Boone Street.

Each of the three local boards has three members, Fahey said.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Sometimes I think nothing is more important than good posture. A pretty face certainly isn't enough. And even perfect grooming, important as it is, at all times doesn't automatically make you your most attractive self.

Nothing can make heads turn appreciatively your way if you have these faults: Hunched shoulders, head thrust forward and drooping, a shambling walk.

How different you are if you stand and sit straight and tall, shoulders back. How eye-catching is a head held high, sprightly, alert movement, a springy step.

Posture for Charm

There's a definite health angle to posture. The body cannot perform as it should if posture is bad, and a doctor is as concerned about posture faults as is a figure specialist. But there are also the requirements of charm. Poor posture, a drooping figure, makes you look as if you were an uninteresting, unresponsive person.

Which would you rather hear: "You look wonderful!" or "What a pretty dress!"? The difference can be posture. The most beautiful, expensive dress cannot bring more of a compliment than just that it is a beautiful dress. It can't even fit correctly, if the figure beneath it slouches. It takes a proud figure to do a dress proud.

Powers Girl Secret

Remember one of the Powers Girls' secrets — that expensive clothes aren't as necessary as some people think they are. It's how a dress is worn that counts. Sometimes when I compliment a girl on looking especially lovely, she tells me she's wearing an expensive little number, perhaps one she made herself. To me, and to every man who sees her, she looks like a queen because she sits and stands and walks like one.

Of course, Powers girls choose their clothes meticulously no matter what the price tag. But they can step out into their glamorous worlds often in simple, inexpensive costumes because they step so handsomely. It's not what they wear that identifies them, just how they wear it in movement or in repose.

Check up on your own posture. A few good exercises will correct faulty posture. A few correct attitudes will keep your posture good. My booklet, "YOUR POSTURE" (see below) gives you the information you need exactly to improve your figure, health and the way you look in your clothes.

The girl who droops in a corner at a party may be there because she droops. The drooping makes her look tired and discouraged, and this discourages anyone from seeking her out. She may be really quick minded and interesting, but how is anyone to know?

The bidding:
South West North East
1 Pass 2 NT Pass
5 Pass 6 ♠ (final bid)

In the original version of the Blackwood Convention any four-trump bid that is made after a suit has been mentioned by either partner, is a request for ace-showing. But this version has been altered in certain expert circles, and in a sequence such as this, if South bids four-trump over North's two-trump, he is merely giving a strong-trump raise, and North can pass if he chooses. Thus, South had to by-pass the four-trump route and do his slam-trying with the five-heart bid.

West led the diamond king. The ace won and South drew the outstanding trumps, then cashed the spade ace and passed the spade ten to East. The latter returned a diamond. South ruffed, and now (or soon) had to make a decision about the rest of the spade suit.

There were only two spades still at large, the queen and the six. South led his own seven, and when West played the six, put up dummy's king, on the theory (as South explained later) that the two missing spades figured to be divided one-and-one between the defenders. His theory did not work out, and he lost the slam.

South's view of the spade-suit was wrong. It is the original probability that counts, and this was that the missing six cards would not be divided 3-3. Having lost to the spade jack, South should have taken a second finesse, against West, on the sounder theory that the suit would not break 3-3, but that the two honors originally missing would be divided between the defenders.

A second plan (also superior to South's) was to cash the ace and king of spades, playing to drop an honor.

Peggy Scott National Fishing Title Winner

Peggy Scott, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, 311 Fayette Street, has been declared a national junior fishing champion by Better Fishing Inc., of Chicago.

A sixth grade student at SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School, Peggy was one of the top winners at the fishing rodeo last August near Oldtown, sponsored by the City Recreation Department in conjunction with the Cumberland Outdoor Club and the Oldtown Sportsmen's Club.

The largest fish among these she caught were a 16-inch pike and a 15½-inch bass. Her catch won her a complete fishing set valued at approximately $50, according to Robert E. Pence, city recreation director.

Peggy's catch also won for her the title of Maryland junior fishing champion, the second time a local entry has won a state title. She is the first local entry to win a national title, Pence stated.

Pence explained all local winners are submitted for national recognition since Better Fishing Inc., is the originator of the youth fishing rodeo program. Each year, he continued, the top prizes are submitted to the local programs, with merchants here furnishing the bulk of the other awards.

The notification of Peggy's national championship arrived in the form of an engraved certificate, signed by Jack Palmer, secretary of Better Fishing Inc., Pence said.

Zoning Appeals Board Approves Two Applications

The Board of Zoning Appeals Thursday night approved two building application appeals at its meeting in City Hall.

Three cases were to have been heard, but one was withdrawn. The board approved the application of Harry M. Cave of 625 Lincoln Street to build a 22 by 24-foot concrete block garage with an apartment on top of it at the rear of his lot. This is located in a Residential Zoning District.

Also passed was the application of Paul W. Holtzman of 216 Seymour Street to construct a three-car garage at the rear of 35-37 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Gilbert Minnigh of Bedford Road, who made application to occupy 214 Mary Street as a part-time printing shop, withdrew his appeal. Holtzman and Cave had applications turned down by the city building engineer because of technical requirements for Residential B zoning districts.

WM Railway Agrees To Area Crossing

Paul S. Parsons, general counsel for the Western Maryland Railway, has informed Del. Estel C. Kelley that the railroad has no objection to Allegheny County using the crossing at Flat Rock near Barton.

Parsons said there are only two trains each day at the Flat Rock Bridge. The railroad would not furnish warning lights, but would erect signs, Del. Kelley said he was told.

The delegates had endeavored to have the Flat Rock Bridge and the grade crossing opened by the State Roads Commission so that Flat Rock Road could be opened to Maryland Route 36.

Joseph F. Reissig, 508 Shriver Avenue, obtained a permit for an $8,000 dwelling on Lot 19, Block D, (812) Shriver Avenue. It will be 40 by 32 feet with concrete block foundation, brick veneer walls and composition shingle roof.

Naughton Is Named To Local Draft Board

Marcus A. Naughton, vice president of the Cumberland Savings Bank, has been named a member of local Draft Board 27.

His appointment by Henry C. Stanwood, state director of Selective Service, was announced yesterday by P. Emmett Fahey, clerk-coordinator of Cumberland boards.

Naughton succeeds Alphonsus L. Will, 66, who died February 21. He resides at 9 Boone Street.

Each of the three local boards has three members, Fahey said.

The girl who looks like a queen—sits, stands and walks like one.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Sometimes I think nothing is more important than good posture. A pretty face certainly isn't enough. And even perfect grooming, important as it is, at all times doesn't automatically make you your most attractive self.

Nothing can make heads turn appreciatively your way if you have these faults: Hunched shoulders, head thrust forward and drooping, a shambling walk. How different you are if you stand and sit straight and tall, shoulders back. How eye-catching is a head held high, sprightly, alert movement, a springy step.

Posture for Charm There's a definite health angle to posture. The body cannot perform as it should if posture is bad, and a doctor is as concerned about posture faults as is a figure specialist. But there are also the requirements of charm. Poor posture, a drooping figure, makes you look as if you were an uninteresting, unresponsive person.

Which would you rather hear: "You look wonderful!" or "What a pretty dress!" The difference can be posture. The most beautiful, expensive dress cannot bring more of a compliment than just that it is a beautiful dress. It can't even fit correctly, if the figure beneath it eludes it. It takes a proud figure to do a dress proud.

Remember one of the Powers Girls' secrets—that expensive clothes aren't as necessary as some people think they are. It's how a dress is worn that counts. Sometimes when I compliment a girl on looking especially lovely, she tells me she's wearing an inexpensive little number, perhaps one she made herself. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW
One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: AND FRAME LOVE DITTIES PASSING RARE, AND SING THEM TO A LADY FAIR—SCOTT.

Bill Proposes Vote On Lights For Cresaptown

Referendum Would
Be Held In 1956

Cresaptown area residents would be able to vote in a referendum for street lights in their community under terms of a bill which was introduced in the House of Delegates last night by the County Delegation.

Charles M. See, delegation chairman, said the bill would call for a referendum on the question on the first Monday in April 1956. If approved by the voters, the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association would be empowered to install street lights so long as the cost of the taxpayers of the area does not exceed 25 cents per each $100 of assessed valuation.

Delegate See said the measure was introduced at the specific request of Earl E. Manges, attorney for the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association. A similar referendum was defeated there back in 1951.

Voting Machine Bill

Also introduced yesterday, by Delegate Lester B. Reed, was HB 818 which relates to the number of voters for each voting machine for elections held in Allegany County. On the assumption that the bill requiring voting machines throughout the state passes, Delegate Reed has introduced HB 818 which would amend Section 96 of Article 33 of the State Election Code.

HB 818 would give the County Board of Election Supervisors discretionary powers in determining the number of voters for each voting machine. State law now restricts the number to one for each 500 voters or fraction thereof in each precinct.

Earlier this week Delegate Reed also introduced HB 766, which refers to the qualifications for an applicant for registration as a land surveyor.

Under present law the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors must give examinations to all applicants for registration as land surveyors. They must be graduates of approved schools and have two years of land surveying experience or must have six years' land surveying experience.

Reed's plan would exempt from the examination any surveyor with 10 years of experience.

Other Measures

Reed also has introduced House Bill 765 to provide pensions for retired school teachers who taught in Allegany County public or normal schools for 20 years and who meet other specified qualifications. Reed said there are a few aged teachers in the county who taught for as many as 3 years but were not eligible for persons under the law which specified 25 years as the minimum.

The House on Thursday passed Reed's HB 583, defining as incorporated municipalities all Allegany County special taxing areas in existence as of January 1, 1953, for the purpose of distributing state income taxes.

Governor McKeldin signed into law a bill (HB 216) sponsored by the County Delegation to permit the Allegany County Commissioners to contribute $500 a year to the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association.

Navy Announces New Schedules

A new schedule of office hours has been announced by Chief Edward Carey, in charge of the US Navy recruiting station here.

The offices, on the third floor of the Post Office building will be open daily except Saturdays and Sundays from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. On Saturday the office will open at 8:30 a.m. but will close at noon. Sundays and holidays, the office will remain closed.

Carey said yesterday that the Navy Department has announced that most Navy men now re-enlisting will be assured of their next assignments for a minimum of 12 months. The only exceptions will be made in highly specialized rates requiring special training such as guided missiles and special weapons fields.

The Navy says the new policy has three options designed to make its re-enlistment program more attractive, thus retaining the best-trained and most skilled men in the service.

To be eligible for these newest provisions, all personnel must enlist within 90 days of discharge, Chief Carey noted.

The Weather

Yesterday's sunny skies were a little deceptive for the winds which blew most of the day were decided on the chilly side and scattered showers fell early last night. The official high temperature was 52, the low 29 and it was 42 at 8:30 p.m. The relative humidity at 6 p.m. was a low 51 per cent. At 11 p.m. a light, melting snow was falling at Frostburg. Today is slated to be windy and colder, with snow flurries in the mountains.

Soil Scientist Ends Month Study Of Potomac Basin

Soil Scientist Kenneth M. Stone is back in his office now after participating in a month-long study of sediment and stream bank erosion damage in the Potomac River basin.

G. Robert Hall, geologist with the regional Soil Conservation Service office in Upper Darby, Pa., directed the study which took two geologists and five soil scientists into four different states.

Juvenile Court Bill Amended By Sen. Kimble

Senator Robert B. Kimble has made several amendments to his bill providing for a complete reorganization of the Allegany County Juvenile Court.

Deleted from the bill is a requirement that the magistrate for juvenile causes must be a member of the Allegany County Bar. The magistrate, however, must devote full time to the position, and is to be paid $6,500 a year, two-thirds by Allegany County and the other third by the City of Cumberland. The bill, introduced in the Senate this week, has been amended to allow bona fide members of the press to attend juvenile court hearings.

The juvenile magistrate is required to file a $5,000 performance bond, paid for by the County Commissioners. He is required to sit each weekday from 9 a. m. to noon, and 1 p. m. to 3:30 p. m., with the exception of Saturday, when the court is to be open from 9 a. m. to noon.

Hearings Informal

It requires the county to provide suitable quarters for the court. Cases concerning children are to be heard separately from cases involving adults, and in an informal manner.

Any person aggrieved by an order of the court may, within 10 days, appeal to the Circuit Court of Allegany County.

The six employees of the court are to be appointed by the magistrate for indefinite terms, and salaries are to be paid 2/3 by the county and 1/3 by the City of Cumberland.

They include a secretary-stenographer at a salary of $3,800 a year; a clerk-cashier, salary $3,600; a male and female probation officer, both to be paid $4,000 a year; and a male and female case worker at a salary of $3,800 each.

In case the juvenile magistrate is absent temporarily, either of the two trial magistrates of Cumberland may serve in his place.

One county tax collector in a central tax office on a salary, plus a county purchasing agent and purchasing bureau are provided in two bills introduced yesterday by Senator Kimble.

The bill would have the tax collector and an assistant tax collector being appointed by the county commissioners to serve "at their pleasure." This means his term would be for as long as the board would see fit.

Could Fix Salary

The bill also would have the county commissioners setting "a reasonable and appropriate" salary.

Bicentennial Planners Ask Progress Report Next Week

A report of progress which has been made toward the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Celebration will be presented next Friday at 2:30 p. m.

The report will be presented by the Executive Committee of the Bicentennial Steering Committee and chairmen of major committees.

Wallace Lafferty, of the John B. Rogers Company, will be present at the meeting in the Bicentennial Headquarters on North Mechanic Street opposite City Hall.

Lafferty is expected to outline the steps which must be taken in planning the various Bicentennial events, which will culminate with the Bicentennial pageant the week of August 14.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon, the Executive Committee discussed the possibility of entering a car or float advertising the Bicentennial celebration in the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester April 29 and 30.

Plans were also discussed for securing colonial costumes to be used for the annual Flower Show, planned May 5 and 6 by the garden group of the Woman's Civic Club.

The committee also discussed the awarding of trophies for a Bicentennial Golf Tournament here this year.

New Program Ups Demand For Milk

Reports from school cafeteria managers indicate that the special school milk program started in Allegany high schools Tuesday has stimulated the consumption of milk.

Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias, said yesterday that Allegany, Fort Hill and Mt. Savage high schools all report increased demands for milk.

At Allegany, about 600 additional half-pints of milk are being sold each day, at Fort Hill the increase is about 400 half pints daily and at Mt. Savage between 180 and 200 more.

Under the program, authorized by the Agricultural Act of 1954, the cafeterias are charging only three cents instead of the usual six cents for each half pint ordered after the first one. The program will be expanded by April 4 to include all of the elementary schools as well as high schools.

The Federal Government reimburses the county for much of the additional expense in offering additional milk to the children of the county.

This morning at 10 o'clock, the cafeteria managers will meet with Mrs. Eaton to discuss the milk program and plans for the Easter luncheon.

11,922 Receive Surplus Food During March

Government surplus food was distributed the past two weeks to 3,414 Allegany County families with 11,922 individuals, the heaviest total since the program was started last June, according to J. Walker Chapman, director of the distribution.

Chapman, who distributes the food in addition to his regular duties as county roads supervisor, said that 16,013 pounds of butter, 13,025 pounds of dried milk and 1,777 pounds of shortening were given away the past two weeks.

In April the distribution will start Monday, April 11, in Westport. Chapman emphasizes that the communities are visited in the same order each month starting with Westport on the second Monday of the month. The April registration is a little under the March figures.

Registration for the May distribution will be conducted April 4, 5 and 6.

Chapman will go to Grantsville Monday to assist Garrett County officials in starting their distribution of surplus food. The distribution in that county will be made at Grantsville, Friendsville, Kitzmiller and Oakland.

Conference Planned On AFL Craft Contract

A meeting will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the AFL Labor Temple here to discuss a new contract covering AFL building craft unions.

Attending will be representatives of general and sub-contractors of the Cumberland area and officials of the Cumberland Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL).

The conference will be the third held here to negotiate a new contract covering the industry.

To Build Addition

The Enterprise Amusement Company, 170 North Centre Street, has secured a permit to build an addition to its business at 151-53 North Mechanic Street.

James F. Hupp, president, who secured the permit, said the addition will front 34 feet, four inches on North Mechanic Street, and be 122 feet long. Cost was estimated at $5,000.

Commitment On Tax Exemption Sought Here

Change Would Affect
PPG Construction

Albert H. Hargreaves, director of the Cumberland Industrial Promotion Department of the Chamber of Commerce, has notified the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly that any change in the present tax exemption law affecting inventories of businesses and industries will result in a re-study of plans for the construction of the huge $34,000,000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch.

This week the delegates refused to concur with Senator Robert B. Kimble's proposal to repeal the exemption of 40 per cent of the tax of inventories of businesses and industries.

The delegation voted unanimously to oppose any change in Chapter 592 of the Acts of 1953 which granted the tax exemption of 40 per cent to businesses and industries in Allegany County.

Agreed To Change

When informed of the delegation's decision, Senator Kimble said he would agree to the delegates' wishes and have the amendment stricken from House Bill 214.

On Thursday individual telegrams were sent to the delegation by County Commissioners Charles N. Wilkinson and James Orr in which they asked the legislators to reconsider their action in connection with tax exemption measures.

Hargreaves pointed out last night that it is bad public relations for the tax laws to be changed every two years. He added that the Pittsburgh firm spent approximately six months in studying the present law and should it be changed the firm would have to make a re-study.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass is planning a board of directors meeting early next month, Hargreaves pointed out, and the tax problem will be discussed then.

Would Delay Work

However if the tax situation is not settled and remains "open," the Pittsburgh company in all practicability could not go ahead to authorize the awarding of a contract to build the plant, according to Hargreaves, who said he sees no justification in holding up the construction work at North Branch. The local committee director for the past two years has been working along with M. E. Carlisle, chairman of the construction committee of Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Hargreaves added that when the Pittsburgh firm was considering Cumberland for its new plant, the Industrial Promotion Committee through the Chamber of Commerce acquainted the glass company with the tax law affecting businesses and industries of the county.

City Workers Hit Sewer Line At 26-Foot Mark

A Street Department crew will report for work today in an attempt to complete repairs of broken sections of a sewer line located 26 feet below the surface of Louisiana Avenue at Sheridan Place.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz said last night that eight lengths of sewer line must be replaced.

Commissioner Buchholz and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum inspected the repair project yesterday after crews had uncovered the broken section of 24 inch, single strength sewer line.

The commissioner said he hopes the situation will be corrected with the replacement of the broken sections.

The break, which has caused considerable trouble, was found early Thursday after the excavation had reached the 26 foot mark.

Commissioner Buchholz said the sewer line takes a sharp dip at the point of the trouble, and added he has been told some sections of the line are buried some 50 feet below the surface in what was once Devil's Hollow.

Plumbers To Meet

Local 489, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union (AFL) will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the AFL Labor Temple, according to Coy F. Dyer, business agent.

Wildlife Society Gives $200 Toward Defense Of Gilpin

The Northeastern Section, Wildlife Society, has voted an appropriation of $200 to aid in the defense of David D. Gilpin, of Romney, conservation official who was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter in Hampshire County Circuit Court February 8.

After a jury found Gilpin guilty in the death of Grove J. Michael, 41, of Shanks, W. Va., who was killed November 27, he asked for a new trial.

The court has the motion under advisement. The maximum penalty is one year imprisonment or $1,000 fine or both according to the discretion of the court.

Delegates of the Wildlife Society, who met on Wednesday in Atlantic City, unanimously voted the

Tax Withholding Plan Is Opposed By Businessmen

Kimble Is Informed
Of C. Of C. Stand

The Board of Directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has asked Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble to oppose legislation being considered in the General Assembly for the withholding of state income taxes.

Senator Kimble was informed yesterday by Anthony Saeli, manager of the Chamber, of the stand taken by the Board of Directors Thursday night.

Saeli asked Senator Kimble to convey to members of the Maryland Senate the Chamber's objections to House Bills 16 and 389 and Senate Bill 321, insofar as they provide for the withholding of state income taxes.

The Chamber pointed out that employers for some time have been compelled by law to become collectors for both the federal and state governments.

This burden has subjected employers, both large and small, to heavy expense, the Chamber said, and the enactment of bills pending in the Assembly would substantially increase that burden.

A more serious objection to the bills, the Chamber said, is that they would make possible the practice of anticipating income and spending it as if it were a recurring source of revenue, and that this, in the view of a sound businessman, is not good practice.

The Chamber said it would see the only benefits to the state would be the acceleration of tax collections by one year and the collection of taxes from a few people who do not make tax returns.

Offer Alternatives — Businessmen, they said, do not believe these benefits to the state would justify the expense which would be incurred by the collection, accounting and remittance of these taxes.

It said businessmen believe the acceleration of tax collections can be accomplished as readily by an effective system of estimating and prepayment by taxpayers.

The collection of income taxes from those who do not file state income tax returns, the Chamber said, is an enforcement function which should rest with the state and not be imposed upon private citizens.

"While businessmen oppose the bills in principle," the Chamber said, "we should also like to point out that they do not provide for any method of compensation to employers for the expense incurred in collecting and remitting the taxes."

Sales and use tax laws, it added, provide such compensation which is inadequate but does serve as partial reimbursement for the collection functions imposed upon businesses.

Committees Cut McKeldin Budget But Add More

Aviation Commission
Ordered Abolished

By HERB THOMPSON
ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin's record budget came out of finance committees of the House and Senate tonight $300,267 higher than when it went in, despite cuts totaling more than one million dollars.

The committees were able to whittle $1,227,626 off the governor's original $268,827,484 spending bill for next year, but two supplements which came down this week had the effect of wiping this out and increasing the overall total to $269,029,019.

Del. Boone (D-Balto County), chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said the biggest single cut—totaling more than $400,000—was sliced from an original Mental Hygiene Department budget totaling $15,223,625.

The committees also abolished the State Aviation Commission which carried a budget totaling $25,222 for 1956. Director Richard A. Jamison had suggested that the legislators either give the commission sufficient money to operate properly or abolish it.

Tax bills to provide for state spending next year were not reported out by the committees tonight. They are to be acted on next Friday after public hearings and detailed study by the committees next week. The committee tackled the budget pruning before taking up the subject of taxes.

Library Causes Clash

The cuts the House was asked to approve came after weeks of hearings at which heads of state agencies appeared to explain their request. The relatively slight overall cut approximated those by recent legislatures.

The mental hospital slash brought howls before it even reached the floor of the House.

From the other side of the hall, Sen. Phoebus (D-Somerset), contrasted it with a two-million dollar library expected to be approved for the University of Maryland. Said Phoebus: "I'll never vote as long as I live for two million dollars for a library."

"You can buy a city for that, and build as many schools as we need in the State," he added.

"I'll never go along with building a marble palace when we're faced with a 30 million dollar shortage, and when they're talking about cutting services for mental hospitals. 'You never get knowledge out of a building, only out of books.'"

Gov. McKeldin's original budget sent down Feb. 9 totaled $268,827,484. He later sent the Legislature a supplement boosting the total to $270,798,936. This was reduced by $642,291 through savings to the State as a result of the annual property assessments law signed by McKeldin last night.

Escapee To Be Tried In Assault On Beryl Miner

William Warner Wilson, 33, of the Bloomington area, who escaped from the Mineral County jail in Keyser, W. Va., with two other prisoners on March 15, was recaptured late Thursday night near Kingwood and is now back in the County Jail at Keyser.

Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin last night said Wilson will be tried during the April term of Circuit Court in Mineral County on a charge of assaulting Alex Briskey, elderly Beryl miner and robbing him of $125.

If convicted, Rankin said, Wilson can be sentenced to life imprisonment as a "three-time loser." The arresting officers of Wilson late Thursday night were State Troopers H. E. Parks and J. E. Coleman, both of the Kingwood detachment, who found Wilson at the home of Alston DeCost at Deace, about three miles south of Kingwood.

Wilson told police he had ridden a B&O freight train from Keyser to Kingwood. He was taken to the Preston County Jail at Kingwood and yesterday authorities brought him back to Keyser.

The other two escapees, captured in Cumberland March 16, are William J. Jernell, 38, of RD 1, Keyser and James C. Carr, 32, of 4 Clement Street, city.

Scholarship Test Scheduled Today

The annual examination for college scholarships will be conducted at 10 a. m. today in the Allegany County Board of Education Building.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer said yesterday that about 40 high school seniors and graduates have indicated their interest in taking the test. The interested group includes 13 from Valley High School, 12 from Fort Hill, four each from Allegany and Beall, three from Bruce and one each from Carver and Flintstone. Two high school graduates also plan to compete.

Scholarships are being offered to the University of Maryland, Western Maryland College, Washington College, St. Mary's Seminary, Maryland Institute, Morgan State College and Johns Hopkins University.

Bill Proposes Vote On Lights For Cresaptown

Referendum Would
Be Held In 1956

Cresaptown area residents would be able to vote in a referendum for street lights in their community under terms of a bill which was introduced in the House of Delegates last night by the County Delegation.

Charles M. See, delegation chairman, said the bill would call for a referendum on the question of the first Monday in April 1956. If approved by the voters, the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association would be empowered to install street lights so long as the cost of the taxpayers of the area does not exceed 25 cents per each $100 of assessed valuation.

Delegate See said the measure was introduced at the specific request of Earl E. Manges, attorney for the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association. A similar referendum was defeated there back in 1951.

Voting Machine Bill

Also introduced yesterday, by Delegate Lester B. Reed, was HB 818 which relates to the number of voters for each voting machine for elections held in Allegany County. On the assumption that the bill requiring voting machines throughout the state passes, Delegate Reed has introduced HB 818 which would amend Section 96 of Article 33 of the State Election Code.

HB 818 would give the County Board of Election Supervisors discretionary powers in determining the number of voters for each voting machine. State law now restricts the number to one for each 500 voters or fraction thereof in each precinct.

Earlier this week Delegate Reed also introduced HB 766, which refers to the qualifications for an applicant for registration as a land surveyor.

Under present law the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors must give examinations to all applicants for registration as land surveyors. They must be graduates of approved schools and have two years of land surveying experience or must have six years' land surveying experience.

Reed's plan would exempt from the examination any surveyor with 10 years of experience.

Other Measures

Reed also has introduced House Bill 765 to provide pensions for retired school teachers who taught in Allegany County public or normal schools for 20 years and who meet other specified qualifications. Reed said there are a few aged teachers in the county who taught for as many as 3 years but were not eligible for persons under the law which specified 25 years as the minimum.

The House on Thursday passed Reed's HB 583, defining as incorporated municipalities all Allegany County special taxing areas in existence as of January 1, 1953, for the purpose of distributing state income taxes.

Governor McKeldin signed into law a bill (HB 216) sponsored by the County Delegation to permit the Allegany County Commissioners to contribute $500 a year to the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association.

Navy Announces New Schedules

A new schedule of office hours has been announced by Chief Edward Carey, in charge of the U.S. Navy recruiting station here.

The offices, on the third floor of the Post Office building will be open daily except Saturdays and Sundays from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. On Saturday the office will open at 8:30 a.m. but will close at noon. Sundays and holidays, the office will remain closed.

Carey said yesterday that the Navy Department has announced that most Navy men now re-enlisting will be assured of their next assignments for a minimum of 12 months. The only exceptions will be made in highly specialized rates requiring special training such as guided missiles and special weapons fields.

The Navy says the new policy has three options designed to make its re-enlistment program more attractive, thus retaining the best-trained and most skilled men in the service.

To be eligible for these new provisions, all personnel must re-enlist within 90 days of discharge, Chief Carey noted.

The Weather

Yesterday's sunny skies were a little deceptive for the winds which blew most of the day were decided. On the chilly side and scattered showers fell early last night. Soil Scientist Ends Month Study Of Potomac Basin

Soil Scientist Kenneth M. Stone is back in his office now after participating in a month-long study of sediment and stream bank erosion damage in the Potomac River basin.

G. Robert Hall, geologist with the regional Soil Conservation Service office in Upper Darby, Pa., directed the study which took two geologists and five soil scientists into four different states.

In the study the group checked 85 different stations on each of four different streams in the Potomac River basin. They recorded their findings as to the extent of overwash, swamping, stream bank erosion, flood plain scouring and land use at the 85 check points on each of the four streams.

The survey started Monday, February 28, and the scientists worked out of Romney, W. Va., for a week as they charted their findings along Patterson Creek. On March 7 they moved on to Oakland where they studied the North Branch of the Potomac up to its source at the Fairfax Stone.

Cumberland then was the group's headquarters for a brief period as they checked Town Creek from the Chaneyville, Pa., area to its mouth east of Oldtown. Finally the Soil Conservation Service crew moved to Winchester, Va., where they made records about damage along Cedar Creek, a stream which flows into the Shenandoah River. The Shenandoah in turn empties into the Potomac at Harpers Ferry.

Joining with Hall and Stone in the study was another geologist from the Upper Darby office and four other soil scientists, Elvin Z. W. Comp of Southern Maryland; Roslyn B. Willis, from Maine; William A. Wertz from New York State, and David C. Taylor of Pennsylvania.

Data compiled by the group will be used in citing flood control needs in the Potomac River basin.

The Federal Government reimburses the county for much of the additional expense in offering additional milk to the children of the county.

This morning at 10 o'clock, the cafeteria managers will meet with Mrs. Eaton to discuss the milk program and plans for the Easter luncheon.

Chapman, who distributes the food in addition to his regular duties as county roads supervisor, said that 16,013 pounds of butter, 13,025 pounds of dried milk and 1,777 pounds of shortening were given away the past two weeks.

In April the distribution will start Monday, April 11, in Westport. Chapman emphasizes that the communities are visited in the same order each month starting Monday of the month. The April registration is a little under the March figures.

Registration for the May distribution will be conducted April 4, 5 and 6.

Chapman will go to Grantsville Monday to assist Garrett County officials in starting their distribution of surplus food. The distribution in that county will be made at Grantsville, Friendsville, Kitzmiller and Oakland.

A meeting will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the AFL Labor Temple here to discuss a new contract covering AFL building craft unions.

Attending will be representatives of general and sub-contractors of the Cumberland area and officials of the Cumberland Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL).

The conference will be the third held here to negotiate a new contract covering the industry.

New Program Ups Demand For Milk

Reports from school cafeteria managers indicate that the special school milk program started in Allegany high schools Tuesday has stimulated the consumption of milk.

Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias, said yesterday that Allegany, Fort Hill and Mt. Savage high schools all report increased demands for milk.

At Allegany, about 600 additional half-pints of milk are being sold each day, at Fort Hill the increase is about 400 half pints daily and at Mt. Savage between 180 and 200 more.

Under the program, authorized by the Agricultural Act of 1954, the cafeterias are charging only three cents instead of the usual six cents for each half pint ordered after the first one. The program will be expanded by April 4 to include all of the elementary schools as well as high schools.

Commitment On Tax Exemption Sought Here

Change Would Affect
PPG Construction

Albert H. Hargreaves, director of the Cumberland Industrial Promotion Department of the Chamber of Commerce, has notified the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly that any change in the present tax exemption law affecting inventories of businesses and industries will result in a re-study of plans for the construction of the huge $24,000,000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch.

This week the delegates refused to concur with Senator Robert B. Kimble's proposal to repeal the exemption of 40 per cent of the tax of inventories of businesses and industries.

The delegation voted unanimously to oppose any change in Chapter 592 of the Acts of 1953 which granted the tax exemption of 40 per cent to businesses and industries in Allegany County.

Agreed To Change

When informed of the delegation's decision, Senator Kimble said he would agree to the delegates' wishes and have the amendment stricken from House Bill 214.

On Thursday individual telegrams were sent to the delegation by County Commissioners Charles N. Wilkinson and James Orr in which they asked the legislators to reconsider their action in connection with tax exemption measures.

Hargreaves pointed out last night that it is had public relations for the tax laws to be changed every two years. He added that the Pittsburgh firm spent approximately six months in studying the present law and should it be changed the firm would have to make a re-study.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass is planning a board of directors meeting early next month, Hargreaves pointed out, and the tax problem will be discussed then.

Would Delay Work

However if the tax situation is not settled and remains "open," the Pittsburgh company in all practicality could not go ahead to authorize the awarding of a contract to build the plant, according to Hargreaves, who said he sees no justification in holding up the construction work at North Branch.

The local committee director for the past two years has been working along with M. E. Carlisle, chairman of the construction committee of Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Hargreaves added that when the Pittsburgh firm was considering Cumberland for its new plant, the Industrial Promotion Committee through the Chamber of Commerce acquainted the glass company with the tax law affecting businesses and industries of the county.

The parade is expected to get under way about 2 o'clock in the afternoon with the branches of the military and their equipment a feature of the revue. Other bands and drum and bugle corps will be asked to participate in the parade, Conlon added.

Capt. Henry W. Tubbs Jr., AFD Project Officer, USMC, announces that "open house" will be held from 10 a. m. through 4 p. m. by the various reserve units.

DeWitt S. Hyde, congressman of the Sixth District will be among the guests who will attend the May 21 program.

During last night's meeting Conlon and Tubbs were appointed to head the committee to greet the various officers and guests.

Ernest B. Treat and Bernard G. Renz will be in charge of the sale of tickets to the luncheon. Named to head the budget committee was George Caswell.

Blanche Lueck, of the Navy Mothers, was appointed to head the luncheon committee. The next meeting of the committee will be held at 3 p. m. May 12 in the federal courtroom in the Post Office, at which final plans will be made.

Commissioner Buchholz and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum inspected the repair project yesterday after crews had uncovered the broken section of 24 inch, single strength sewer line.

The commissioner said he hopes the situation will be corrected with the replacement of the broken sections.

The break, which has caused considerable trouble, was found early Thursday after the excavation had reached the 26 foot mark.

Commissioner Buchholz said the sewer line takes a sharp dip at the point of the trouble, and added he has been told some sections of the line are buried some 50 feet below the surface in what was once Devil's Hollow.

Plumbers To Meet

Local 489, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union (AFL) will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the AFL Labor Temple, according to Coy F. Dyer, business agent.

Wildlife Society Gives $200 Toward Defense of Gilpin

The Northeastern Section, Wildlife Society, has voted an appropriation of $200 to aid in the defense of David D. Gilpin, of Romney, conservation official who was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter in Hampshire County Circuit Court February 8.

After a jury found Gilpin guilty in the death of Grove J. Michael, 41, of Shanks, W. Va., who was killed November 27, he asked for a new trial.

The court has the motion under advisement. The maximum penalty is one year imprisonment or $1,000 fine or both according to the discretion of the court.

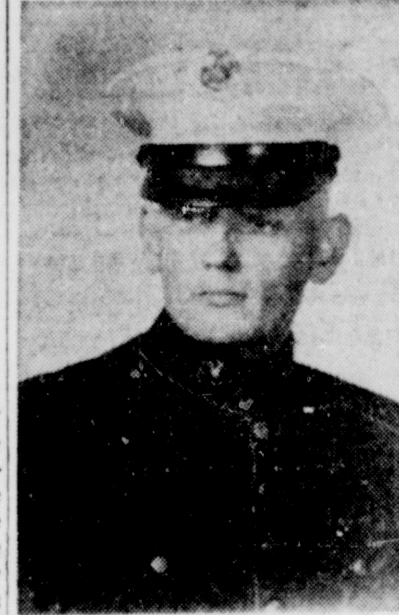

Delegates of the Wildlife Society, who met on Wednesday in Atlantic City, unanimously voted the amount as a token representation of support for the conservation of life.

Michael was shot and killed when he returned to Lewis Combs farm to pick up an illegally slain deer, it was reported.

Raymond B. Poland, one of the witnesses in the case, who was charged with illegal hunting of deer out of season also was arraigned before Judge Harlan M. Calhoun on February 8, and after entering a plea of guilty was fined $100 and costs.

Gilpin told the court during the trial that the shooting happened accidentally when he stumbled with a cocked revolver in his hand after first firing a shot over the head of Poland, who was with the slain man.

UNDERGOING TRAINING — John A. Veach Jr., of the U. S. Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geiman A. Veach, 506 Park Street, is now undergoing four weeks of training in North Carolina. A graduate of Fort Hill High School, he enlisted November 17, 1954 and received basic training at Parris Island, S. C. He will be sent to Quantico, Va. after completing his present training.

Del. Boone (D-Balto County), chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said the biggest single cut—totaling more than $400,000—was sliced from an original Mental Hygiene Department budget totaling $15,223,625.

The committees also abolished the State Aviation Commission which carried a budget totaling $25,222 for 1956. Director Richard A. Jamison had suggested that the legislators either give the commission sufficient money to operate properly or abolish it.

Tax bills to provide for state spending next year were not reported out by the committees tonight. They are to be acted on next Friday after public hearings and detailed study by the committees next week. The committee tackled the budget pruning before taking up the subject of taxes.

Library Causes Clash

The cuts the House was asked to approve came after weeks of hearings at which heads of state agencies appeared to explain their request. The relatively slight overall cut approximated those by recent legislatures.

The mental hospital slash brought howls before it even reached the floor of the House.

From the other side of the hall, Sen. Phoebus (D-Somerset), contrasted it with a two-million dollar library expected to be approved for the University of Maryland, said Phoebus: "I'll never vote as long as I live for two million dollars for a library."

"You can buy a city for that, and build as many schools as we need in the State," he added.

"I'll never go along with building a marble palace when we're faced with a 30 million dollar shortage, and when they're talking about cutting services for mental hospitals."

"You never get knowledge out of a building, only out of books."

Gov. McKeldin's original budget sent down Feb. 9 totaled $268,827,484. He later sent the Legislature a supplement boosting the total to $270,738,936. This was reduced by $642,291 through savings to the State as a result of the annual property assessments law signed by McKeldin last night.

Escapée To Be Tried In Assault On Beryl Miner

William Warner Wilson, 33, of the Bloomington area, who escaped from the Mineral County jail in Keyser, W. Va., with two other prisoners on March 15, was recaptured late Thursday night near Kingwood and is now back in the County Jail at Keyser.

Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin last night said Wilson will be tried during the April term of Circuit Court in Mineral County on a charge of assaulting Alex Briskey, elderly Beryl miner and robbing him of $125.
